Britain's Mac Plans Urgent Appeal To K.

. . . FOR SMASHING BARRIERS

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan plans to lay before Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev an urgent appeal to break down barriers now preventing discussion of dangerous world problems, authoritative sources reported Wednesday.

Macmillan, playing a key role in Western strategy, addresses the U.N. General Assembly Thursday in advance of a face-to-face meeting with the Soviet leader. The informants said his aim is to salvage something from this historic 15th session and prevent it from ending in disastrous diplomatic failure.

Furious diplomatic activity preceding his appearance indicated it will mark a critical juncture in the debate.

Macmillan's speech, the informants said, will be pitched to a low key. He will follow lines similar to those presented by President Eisenhower a week ago and indicate to the 96-member world organization that the West is keeping an open mind on approaches to such urgent issues as disarmament and nuclear weapons control.

But the British leader will present forcefully points like these:

1. The West is willing to discuss and explore any avenues toward a common ground for approaching the problem of disarmament.

2. Britain and the West are unalterably opposed to Khrushchev's terms for expanding the existing but practically defunct 10-nation disarmament committee. Khrushchev wants 5 "neutral" nations added to the 5 Western and five communist nations on the committee. The West considers such a ratio unrepresentative.

3. The West is unalterably opposed to any plan to tamper with the peace-making machinery of the U.N. or the secretary general's office. Khrushchev has said he will not discuss disarmament until some consideration is given to his proposal to abolish the secretary general's office.

4. Britain has no intention of occupying the role of "conciliator" or "mediator" between the Soviet Union and the United States, or between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower. In a word, the U.N. —and the Russians—will be given to understand that the Western front will hold firm.

SOVIETS SUFFER NEW DEFEATS

United Nations, N.Y. (Thursday) (AP) — The U.N. Steering Committee early today voted down Soviet proposals to open General Assembly debate on disarmament next week.

The committee also gave the Soviet Union another setback by refusing to knock out Assembly consideration of charges against the Soviet forces in Hungary and accusations of Red Chinese aggression against Tibet.

The Soviet bloc's drive to bypass the important political committee and give the Assembly floor to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for a quick disarmament statement was defeated 13-4 with 4 abstentions.

Castro Says He'll Demand Guantanamo

Havana (AP)—Fidel Castro returned home from the United Nations Wednesday night and said again his regime would demand—"by means of international law" —that the United States give up the Guantanamo Naval Base.

Two bomb explosions in the park behind the presidential palace interrupted the bearded prime minister as he spoke from the balcony in front. Neither explosion caused any damage but they set off roars of "Paredon!" — "to the execution wall!" — from the throng estimated at 150,000 that welcomed Castro home as a conquering hero.

Two Talks In State Set For Jackson

Democratic National Chairman Sen. Henry Jackson will speak in Kearney and Omaha next week.

The Washington legislator will speak Oct. 5 at Kearney in a fund-raising dinner appearance made in behalf of Fourth District Rep. Don McGinley.

Jackson will also address a breakfast meeting of members of the Nebraska Bar Assn. hosted by senatorial nominee Robert Conrad in Omaha Oct. 6.

The national chairman is scheduled to arrive in Omaha from Minneapolis late next Wednesday afternoon, hold an airport press conference and fly on to Kearney.

He will return to Omaha that evening, and leave for Kansas City following the Thursday morning breakfast appearance.

Jackson is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, the Government Operations Committee, Interior and Insular Affairs, the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and the Select Committee on National Water Resources.

Omaha attorney Joseph T. Votava, past president of the Nebraska Bar Assn., will preside at the Conrad breakfast.

Wide Area Gets Rainfall

Cloudy skies and afternoon and evening thundershowers are on tap for Nebraska Thursday, the weatherman predicted, following a night of showers.

Temperatures are expected to reach the 70s over most of the state and rise to near 80 in the panhandle.

Wednesday evening rains brought more than half an inch of precipitation to Hastings and Kearney. Kearney reported power failures caused by a severe electrical storm which accompanied the rain.

Safety Patrol officials said that the Blue Hill area experienced a hail storm which turned the streets of the community white but did little if any damage.

Lincoln also received precipitation during a brief drenching rain Wednesday evening. David City also reported rain.

McCook had Wednesday's high of 87, Chadron the low of 42.

Store Zoning Wins Approval

Approval of a major zoning change in the 17th and South area has been recommended by the Planning Commission. The change will permit construction of a $250,000 Hinky Dinky supermarket. See story on page 3.

Gen. Twining Says Red Leaders 'Know It':

AMERICA COULD FLATTEN RUSSIA

COMPROMISE IMPOSSIBLE

. . . Lengthy Cold War Foreseen

From Press Reports

New York — Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining said Wednesday night this country "can now destroy Russia, and China, if we are attacked, and the Communist leaders know it."

Twining, who is retiring Oct. 1 as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, added in an address prepared for a dinner of the National Security Industrial Association:

Gen. Twining

"They know that even if they launched a surprise attack, they would bring down certain destruction on their own heads.

"A nuclear world is not a comfortable world, but it is preferable, in my thinking, to a communized world. The American capability for decisive, war-winning response to any attack must be kept sure, whatever the costs. It is the only reliable guarantee of the peace. Forces that cannot win will not deter."

Twining forecast a cold war period that could last for years, adding:

"It will go on until there is a clear winner and a clear loser. The struggle is too big, too vast, too deadly for compromise."

The nation's top military man declared:

"All of you, as responsible citizens, might make more noise, and let the press and your government know that you understand that world tensions are the cause of armaments — not the reverse —and that any meaningful disarmament can only follow —not precede—political reconciliation."

Must Be Tougher

Twining said America must be more tough minded in following unpopular courses at home and abroad.

"We must be stricter with our friends and with ourselves," he said. "There have been times in recent years when it seemed to me that some of our people in positions of influence had ceased to understand precisely the objectives of American policy . . .

"I can't help but think that our educational processes had inspired a stronger faith in American values, and the resolutions and the guts and fortitude to maintain them," he added.

In his prepared remarks he listed 3 subjects on which American thinking should be revised:

Would Lift Tests Ban

—Resumption of nuclear weapons testing. He said this is "a matter of utmost importance to our national and personal future" and Americans should "take a careful reading of the relative power positions a few years hence should a ban on testing continue indefinitely without reasonable safeguards."

—Disarmament without proper controls. He said this is favored by a minority of Americans, and would be like abolishing the New York police force while hoodlums and footpads run loose.

—Insistence on freedom of the seas as applied to aircraft over international waters. He said Russia's action recently in shooting down an American RB47 reconnaissance plane was international murder and that the two survivors have been locked up in Russia and denied the rights which law-respecting nations accord.

—45 VOTES AT STAKE—

Politicos Aim At New York

Washington (AP) — Both Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon packed them in Wednesday as they battled for New York's 45 presidential electoral votes—the nation's biggest bloc.

The two presidential candidates didn't cross paths. Nixon, the GOP nominee, swirled through metropolitan New York City while Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, invaded upstate Naw York.

In suburban Suffolk County, Nixon received the longest, loudest, wildest ovation of the campaign in an indoor speech at Commack. Nixon said it surpassed the reception he got from the 1960 Republican Convention when it nominated him.

Dense, uproarious crowds greeted Kennedy in upstate Rochester, appearing as large as in Ohio Tuesday when Gov. Michael DiSalle estimated that close to 700,000 cheered him on a 200-mile trek.

Kennedy hammered at Nixon but the vice president, for the most part, wasn't jabbing at his Democratic opponent as hard as he did on Tuesday.

Kennedy called Nixon "the man who led the opposition to medical care for the aged." Telling a meeting in Buffalo that the Republican medical aid bill passed by Congress is inadequate, he said:

"Only with a Democratic president in the White House, can we hope to bring help to poverty-stricken older Americans."

For the most part, Nixon was making pretty much his stock campaign speech all the way.

Rocky Along

At the elbow of the Republican candidate for the White House was New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. And Nixon put on a many-sided pitch to a many-sided city and its Long Island overflow.

The vice president gave a hint that he would bring brainy Democrats into his administration, including the cabinet. He said:

"America cannot afford to less than use the best we have . . . I think that means the best regardless of which party they belong to . . . we must have the best brains of both parties. We must also enlist the best women in positions they are able to fill."

Local Problems

Kennedy, as did Nixon, pitched his speeches at times to local problems.

He did this at the Bell Aircraft plant near Niagara Falls, where the payroll has dropped from 16,000 to 3,000 for lack of defense work. Kennedy told the crowd the unemployment problem is one the next administration "is going to have to face in its first 6 months in office."

Kennedy's vice presidential running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, was busy campaigning in Indiana. Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP vice presidential candidate, was drumming up votes in Johnson's home state, Texas.

Bachelors, Beware

Frankfurt, Germany (UPI) —The death rate of bachelors in West Germany is 46% higher than for married men, and 28% higher for spinsters than for married women.

The Woman Behind The Man

Pat Nixon has had experience in the kind of tasks that will face her if she becomes first lady, both during her trips abroad with the vice president and substituting for Mrs. Eisenhower.

For the 4th in a series of 5 articles on the wife of the Republican candidate for president, see Page 36.

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

Martin

Republican Dave Martin of Kearney is working for a big voter turnout in his attempt to unseat incumbent Rep. Don McGinley in Nebraska's Fourth Congressional District.

DEATH CAR TORN IN TWO PIECES

Man Killed Near Exeter

Lincoln Star Special

Exeter—A one-car accident east of here Wednesday afternoon took the life of one York man and left another York man in "very critical" condition.

Dead was Donald Larry Gene Rhoads, 21, and hospitalized at York was Robert S. Collingham, also 21.

State Trooper Dick Henderson, who investigated, said the car the men were traveling in went off Highway 6, on the south, swerved back across the highway sideways and then wrapped itself around a tree, slicing the vehicle in half.

It has not been determined who was driving the eastbound auto, the patrolman reported.

Time of the accident was placed at about 3 p.m.

The death brought Nebraska's 1960 highway fatality toll to 200, compared to 253 at this time last year.

Jobs Are Payoff For Training Center Grads

Five persons will have obtained gainful employment by Monday as a result of efforts of the Occupational Training Center for Mentally Retarded.

Delwin Lindholm, the center's director, gave that report Wednesday to the center's board of directors meeting at the YWCA.

Report Encouraging

Board Chairman D. Ray Taylor said the report was "an encouraging one."

Wages paid the 5 range from 65 cents per hour to $10 per day in their jobs as dairy helper, TV industrial worker, farmhand, laundry employe and Goodwill Industries salvage man.

They went through a 3-stage program at the center: 8 weeks evaluation, a varying period of work adjustment training and then job placement.

The center "is one of the finest things started in this state in many years," Ralph E. Garner declared.

The assistant commissioner in the State Department of Education's Division of Rehabilitation Services explained that the center's work, 3 years in planning, began May 1.

Since then, the center has evaluated approximately 30 persons handicapped by impaired mental faculties, he said.

Groups Cooperate

Cooperation between his division, the Lincoln Assn. for Retarded Children, Goodwill and the Community Council effected the center's establishment, Garner added.

Two of the 5 persons "have at one time been in a state institution," he noted.

Newcomer Wins Rhode Island's Demo Primary

Providence, R.I. (AP) — Political novice Claiborne Pell Wednesday night won the Democratic nomination to succeed the dean of the U.S. Senate, defeating two seasoned campaigners.

Former Gov. Dennis J. Roberts conceded defeat with little more than half the unofficial vote in.

J. Howard McGrath, a former governor, U.S. senator and attorney general, was far behind from the start.

Well over 100,000 voters turned out for the primary. The vote totals, with 352 of the 357 voting districts reporting unofficial returns, gave Pell 81,018, Roberts 45,055, McGrath 7,445.

The Senate seat is that of 92-year-old Theodore Francis Green, who is retiring. Raoul Archambault Jr., former assistant director of the U.S. budget, is Republican candidate for the seat.

Pell, a 41-year-old Newport socialite and businessman, sought during the hard-fought primary campaign to link his outlook and his youth with that of 43-year-old Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee.

Lt. Gov. John A. Notte Jr. won the Democratic nomination for governor.

—HUMAN 'GUINEA PIG'—

Killer Tests Drug Before Execution

. . . HELPS SAVE WOMAN'S LIFE

McAlester, Okla. (AP)—James Spence's role as a guinea pig for medical science shortly before he died in the Oklahoma penitentiary's electric chair was disclosed.

The 32-year-old Kinston, N.C., man was executed for the murder of a Lawton, Okla., housewife. But before that he had a part in testing a new drug which was said to have saved a McAlester woman's life.

The story was told as officials disclosed a new drug investigation program is in its 6th year at the prison.

$40,000 A Year

So big has it become that prisoners who particpated voluntarily last year received $40,000 from major drug companies.

Spence, awaiting death, was approached with an offer of $250 to be the "guinea pig."

The doomed man agreed because, he said, he wanted to see his wife before he died and he had no funds to bring her here from North Carolina.

The doctors proceeded with the test and it had just proved successful when the McAlester woman was stricken with a rare malady. The physicians said the drug was used in treating her and her life was saved.

Harlem Inn Keeper Yells 'Uncle'

HE WANTS NO MORE OF CASTRO

New York (UPI) — Fidel Castro moved out of the Hotel Theresa Wednesday with 300 pieces of luggage, part of a case of whiskey and two containers of white mice. After surveying what Castro had left behind, the manager said he would not voluntarily accept him as a guest again.

Castro and his party occupied 40 of the hotel's 300 rooms. They spent much of their time beating on the walls to the time of Latin Rhythms and drinking coffee, according to hotel employes.

The Theresa, in the heart of Harlem, caters almost entirely to a Negro clientele. Castro moved there lock, stock and hot plate from the Hotel Shelburne in midtown Manhattan in a pique over arrangements made for him there.

The Castroites did not leave the Theresa in as much of a mess as they did the Shelburne, where feathers strewn on the floor indicated they had plucked their own chickens for dinner.

64 In Party

Nearly all the 64 persons with Castro ate their meals out or had Spanish food sent in. But Castro brought two chefs with him from Cuba, one said to be from the Havana Hilton Hotel, and they prepared the chief's meals on a two-burner hot plate on a dresser.

The cooks left behind a bowl of rice, potatoes, onions and part of a pumpkin. Rice and potatoes appeared to be the mainstays of Castro's diet. The ingredients for his meals were sent from Cuba and carefully inspected.

No Closet In Room

Castro's room was small and contained a lumpy double bed. There was a television set, a small desk and a dresser, but no closet. The room contained 3 chairs and a black shade, which was torn so badly it could not be raised.

A security guard said that for several days at a time, chambermaids were not allowed in the rooms to change the beds.

Castro remained aloof from the rest of the party most of the time.

Love B. Wood, owner-manager of the hotel, said the Cuban guests paid their bill promptly at 4 p.m. every day, but that he would not have Castro back except by state department request.

"Voluntarily, no," said Wood. "Compulsory, yes. This is the greatest country in the world and I don't agree with any guests who lambaste our country."

Frat On Probation Reported Again Subje ct To Action

Sigma Phi Epsilon, a University of Nebraska fraternity placed on probation by the Regents last spring after a wild party at Crete, is back in hot water with university and fraternity officials.

The fraternity and two others were restricted from rushing, pledging and social activities through Sept. 1, 1961 and warned by the Regents last May that a breach of the probation would put the fraternity under threat of immediate closing of its fraternity house.

Dean J. P. Colbert, dean of student affairs, said Wednesday that "it has been established that Sigma Phi Epsilon has failed to abide by the probation it received last spring. National officers of the fraternity have been notified and a decision in the matter is now pending and the case is under advisement.

Sig Ep members reported that the incident which caused the new censure involved a party held after a pinning announcement by one of the fraternity members and a Chi Omega sorority member.

The sorority was placed on social probation following the incident.

The NU chapter of Sig Ep, already under social and conduct probation from the University of Nebraska, and warnings from national chapter headquarters, now faces the possibility of having its charter revoked by the fraternity and of having the chapter house—which is on university property—closed by action of the Regents.

Representatives of the chapter met with Dean Colbert this week concerning the matter, and a representative from the national office of Sigma Phi Epsilon is expected to arrive in Lincoln by this weekend.

Russia Loses First Round In Nuclear Talks

Vienna, Austria (AP) — The Russians Wednesday lost the first round in the battle over nuclear inspection in the "Atoms-for-peace" International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA).

A Western-sponsored plan for inspection controls was adopted 46-14 with 5 abstentions in the Legal Committee of IAEA's fourth general conference.

The Soviet Union and the other Communist countries heatedly opposed the plan. India and the United Arab Republic also rejected it.

It will go Thursday or Friday before the conference's plenary meeting, where it is expected to be approved by a similar overwhelming majority.

Unlike the Big 3 test-ban conference in Geneva, the IAEA meeting is dealing only with peaceful uses of nuclear energy. The inspection is to ensure that IAEA-supplied nuclear fuel is not diverted for military use.

How will inspection work? A country which receives uranium for research work or power production will have to report to the agency how it was used, and agency inspectors will be entitled to check the books on fuel consumption.

Busy Day Due For Rep. Judd

Omaha (AP) — Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, a native Nebraskan, will have a busy day in the Omaha area Thursday. He is slated to speak at a Republican fund raising luncheon in Council Bluffs, address a convocation at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, and speak at a $100-a-plate Republican fund raising dinner in Omaha Thursday evening.

His appearance here is a prelude to the Nebraska Republican post-primary convention in Omaha Friday. Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin will be the keynote speaker at that meeting.

Lumumba Advised By Ghana Head

. . . Letter Is Disclosed

Leopoldville, The Congo (AP) The Congo government commissioners made public Wednesday an intimate letter from Ghana's President Kame Nkrumah advising "My Dear Patrice" Lumumba how to manipulate enemies and friends to regain and hold power over the Congo.

They handed out also copies of letters they said Lumumba wrote to Russia and Red China asking for heavy arms, food, personnel and volunteers.

The commissioners serving under strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu emphasized that the 4-page Nkrumah letter on Ghana government stationery reached here 7 days after Lumumba was fired as premier by President Joseph Kasavubu. It was dated Sept. 12.

Ghana quickly acknowledged that the letter carrying Nkrumah's advice to Lumumba was genuine.

Nkrumah In N.Y.

Nkrumah is in New York attending the U.N. General Assembly, campaigning for an all-African handling of the Congo problem and promoting—without success so far—the idea of a big African-Asian neutral bloc on the international scene.

(There was no immediate comment from the Ghana delegation in New York after it learned of the publication of the Nkrumah letter in Leopoldville.)

The letter advised Lumumba to make use of his enemies as well as of the United Nations to re-establish his power and eliminate them later.

The commissioner's spokesman, Mario Cardozo, issued photocopies of the letter, which he denounced as an attempt of "blacks to colonize blacks."

Cardozo indignantly declared that the commissioners would not tolerate Ghana interference in the Congo's affairs.

Pershing Missile Is Destroyed

TITAN CAPSULE IS RECOVERED

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force fired a Titan 5,000 miles Wednesday, but the Army failed in a bid to successfully launch the first two-stage model of its Pershing tactical missile.

The range safety officer destroyed the Pershing when it wobbled crazily out of control after the second stage ignited.

The giant Titan, 98-feet tall and weighing 125 tons on liftoff, was fired earlier. Officials reported it flew a true course in propelling a simulated warhead to an intended target north of the south Atlantic island of Ascension.

An hour after launch, an ocean range vessel, the coastal Crusader, recovered a data capsule that ejected from the Titan nose cone and parachuted into the sea. The 30-inch cylindrical capsule contained instruments to record the performance of the Avco-designed cone.

The 34-foot Pershing rose smoothly, spewing smoke from its solid-fuel engine. The first stage dropped off about 50 seconds after launch. The second stage flashed to life and almost immediately began to zig-zag wildly.

The safety officer pushed the destroy button, sending an impulse that ignited an explosive package in the rocket.

The missile blew apart, showering several flaming hunks into the Atlantic several miles offshore.

Weather Ahead

Nebraska temperatures for the next 5 days will average from near seasonal normals east and central to 3 to 8 degrees above normal extreme west. The Weather Bureau's extended forecast calls for mild days, cool nights and minor day-to-day temperature changes. Normals highs are the lower 70s; normal lows are the low 40s west to mid 40s east. Little if any precipitation is indicated.

'301 Committee' Is In Favor Of Higher Standards

The "301 Committee," newly-organized to defeat the proposed constitutional amendment that would abolish the state board of education and make the education commissioner an elected official, favors higher teaching standards.

The committee, headed by Byron Dunn of Lincoln, says the amendment, if passed, would "set Nebraska back 25 years in education."

A story in Wednesday's Star could have been interpreted to give the impression that the "301 Committee" was seeking to lower teaching standards.

The proposed amendment 301 will be voted upon by Nebraskans at the Nov. 8 general election.

Laos Peace Talks Open

Vientiane, Laos (AP)—Peace talks aimed at settling Laos' 18-day-old civil war opened Wednesday in Luang Prabang.

Top military commanders of Premier Souvannah Phouma's neutralist government and those of rebel Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's right wing regime met.

The political phase was expected to open Thursday, if the commanders reached agreement.

A Western embassy official who flew in from Luang Prabang at nightfall said the talks were being held at the royal palace.

Premier Souvanna said any agreements reached at Luang Prabang are subject to approval by his government.

Nazi Leader Bormann Said Under Arrest

Buenos Aires (AP) —Unconfirmed reports circulated that former Nazi leader Martin Bormann was arrested in Zarate some 55 miles north of here. Similar rumors in the past have proved unfounded.

Adoph Eichmann, a former colonel in the Nazi Gestapo accused of playing a chief role in the mass murder of 6 million Jews in World War I, was captured here last spring by Israeli volunteer commandos and taken to Israel for trial.

Bormann was Adolf Hitler's deputy and was said to have died in the ruins of Berlin 15 years ago.

Bormann's body was never found but his death was presumed on the basis of evidence at the Nurenberg trials in 1946.

The key witness was Rich Kempka, Hitler's chauffeur. He told the trial judges that he and Bormann got away from the Berlin bunker where Hitler died. He said they were walking by a tank when a bazooka charge blew it up.

Kempka testified that before he lost consciousness he saw Bormann collapse in the flames around him.

There have been many reports that Bormann was alive.

The Argentine news agency Saporiti said a man described as a German suspected to be Bormann was arrested during a police raid in Zarate.

Zarate police refused either to confirm or deny the story. Federal police were unavailable for comment.

Among the unconfirmed reports relating to Bormann's fate after the collapse of the Nazi regime is one that says he escaped to Brazil and another that he was killed by a Jewish doctor in Bariloche, Argentina, some months ago.

We hardly ever see that man anymore (the one at the Police Station who takes your dollar when you pay a parking fine.)
We used to stop in to see him pretty often 'cause Mommy would forget about the parking meter when we went shopping. Now she does most all her shopping at GATEWAY SHOPPING CENTER and she never gets a ticket!
(They let her park free—for as long as she wants to!) I'll bet that man will get pretty lonesome . . . looks to me like everybody is shopping at GATEWAY these days!

Hinky Dinky 17th And South Zoning Approved

Commission Sets Specific Conditions

By Virg Falloon

Commercial zoning for the proposed Hinky Dinky supermarket at 17th and South was approved Wednesday by the City-County Planning Commission on a 5-0 vote.

American Community Stores Corp. requested the change from two-family zoning on 10 lots lying between 17th and St. Marys and south of the commercial-zoned frontage on South.

Atty J. Lloyd Marti said the corporation plans to construct a $250,000 supermarket with paved and lighted parking facilities for 200 cars.

Set Conditions

The commission recommended the zoning change to the City Council under the following conditions:

—that the 5 lots fronting on the west side of St. Marys, across from the Hinky Dinky site, be zoned commercial and also the northeast corner of 17th and Ryons.

—that South and 17th streets be widened to at least four lanes with detailed studies as to the distance needed and the need for left-turn slots and that the street improvements proceed promptly with the cost assessed against the abutting property.

—that necessity of continuing 16th and 17th as one-way pairs south of South to the vicinity of Perkins Boulevard be studied.

Marti presented a letter from Robert Guenzel, president of the Lincoln General Hospital board of trustees, stating the hospital had no objections to the zoning change, widening of 17th, or the continuation of the one-way streets.

Marti said the hospital probably would acquire the property between its grounds and the Hinky Dinky site in the future.

Cost Higher

A Hinky Dinky representative said cost of the site averaged $2.57 a square foot as compared with the $1 avcrage paid for other sites. Existing houses will be moved or razed, he said.

Marti said the company would cooperate with the city and other property owners in proposed street improvements and would request the vacation of the alley across its proposed building site.

Planning Director Dougas Brogden recommended the zoning change and the conditions.

The commission recommended denial of local business zoning on North Cotner from Y to Dudley, saying there is ample land zoned for business in the Bethany area, and also that approval would encourage strip zoning and have a deleterious effect on traffic and residences on Cotner.

The council has asked the commission to study an additional area for local business zoning after deferring action on the requested business zoning for the D. L. Tyrrell floral shop at 1133 No. Cotner and the Milan Evans property at 1140 No. Cotner.

The commission had recommended against a zoning change for these two properties previously.

Charge Denied

In other action, the commission voted 5-0 to deny two-family zoning for 6 vacant lots on the west side of 49th between South and Newton.

The Chambers Construction Co. requested the zoning change on two lots and H.K. Evans, a Lincoln builder, on the other 4.

The area is zoned single-family except for the lots fronting on South between 49th and 48th.

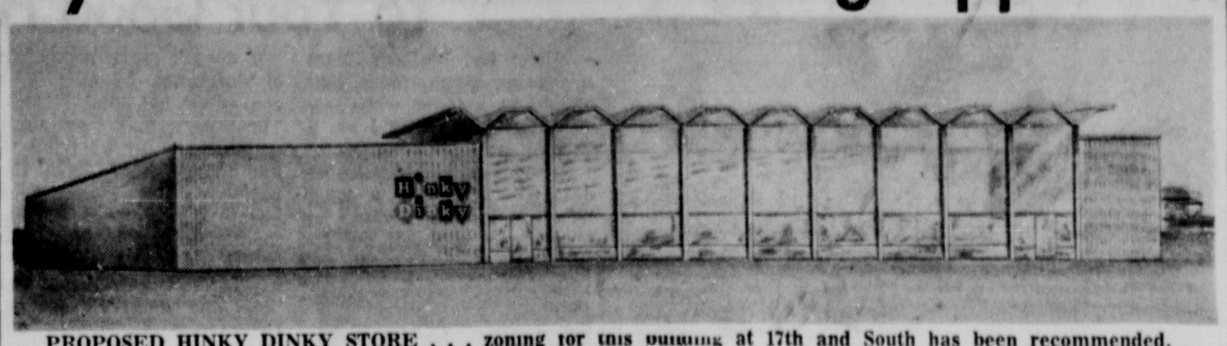
A petition signed by 35 residential owners in the area opposing the zoning change was presented.

Other action:

—approved a special permit to Trinity Methodist Church to allow a parking lot on the east side of 15th between A and B and an 8-foot setback from the property line.

—approved final plat of Chapin Terrace, a 6-lot replat near 17th and Dakota.

—deferred preliminary plat of Sunnyside Acres, a 38-lot replat near 59th and Holdrege, until receipt of the city engineer's report.



PROPOSED HINKY DINKY STORE . . . zoning for this building at 17th and South has been recommended.

Address By President Set At Wesleyan

Nebraska Wesleyan University's 1960-61 student body will receive official welcome to the campus when Dr. Vance D. Rogers delivers his annual president's address Friday.

His subject for the 10 a.m. convocation in C. C. White auditorium will be "In Answer to a Summons." He also will announce the official 1960-61 enrollment figures.

The traditional president's reception opens NWU's social season officially Thursday.

With Dr. and Mrs. Rogers in the receiving line at the 7-9 p.m. affair in the NWU Campus Center will be Board of Trustees Chairman J. D. Anderson of Omaha and his wife and Dean of the College and Mrs. Sam Dahl.

Whelan Asks More Farm Product Study

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings — A prosperous agriculture is vital to all Nebraska, according to Gerald T. Whelan of Hastings, Democratic candidate for First District congressman.

Whelan told farmers here Wednesday that if elected to Congress he would support legislation to accelerate research in the industrial use of farm products.

He proposed a federal fund matching program to aid states with an integrated program for research in the use of agricultural products in industry and other new uses for farm crops.

This according to Whelan would mean that states with a law similar to Nebraska's L. B. 722, which collects a one-tenth mill levy for agricultural research, would receive matching federal funds to aid applied state wide research.

Pointing to the success of urban rural cooperation in the South Central Nebraska Agricultural and Industrial Corporation in developing castor bean production in Nebraska with state aid through L. B. 722 Whelan said, "This same cooperation between city and farm can be used in any locality."

To finance this research Whelan suggested that a portion of the 20 million now used in regional research be applied to the state level.

64 Fraternity Men Pledge To Eye Bank

The eye bank of the Nebraska Lions Club was pledged 128 eyes this week by 64 members of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at the University of Nebraska.

The pledge constitutes 100% participation, Co-chairman Lloyd Wade of the fraternity project said.

Any eye donor can break his pledge anytime he wishes during his lifetime, Wade noted.

Their action, Sig Eps hope, will kindle a campus-wide response to what Wade termed "a voluntary, humanitarian effort."

To get 100 pairs of eyes each year, it takes 10,000 donors, according to Dick Sievers, assistant zone chairman, and Jim Skala, deputy district governor of the Nebraska Lions Club.

For eyes to be transplanted successfully, a physician must get to a donor within 3 hours of death. If that is done, the State Safety Patrol or Civil Air Patrol can rush the eyes to the NU hospital eye bank in Omaha.

However, only one of every 5 transplantation operations are successful in returning sight to blind persons, Sievers and Skala pointed out.

Favor Appointment Of State Education Head

Sidney — Members of the Sidney Educators Club at the September meeting moved and unanimously accepted that the club go on record of supporting the election of a state board of education who in turn appoints a state commissioner of education.

Officers of the Sidney group for this school year are: president, Paul Sheaman; vice president, V. T. Miller; secretary, Mrs. Oscar Copley; and treasurer, Darrell Hunt.

GOP Expected To Re-Elect Thone

By Don Walton

The Republican Party is expected to re-elect State Chairman Charles Thone without opposition at its state convention in Omaha Friday.

Thone was elected in the summer of 1959 to succeed Richard E. Spelts Jr., and would begin a new, two-year term if re-elected this week.

Party Treasurer Joseph Wishart of Lincoln is also expected to continue in his post.

Meanwhile, Thone said he will present to the party's platform committee for its consideration his recommendations on various state issues

Included will be a call for a constitutional convention and new consideration of a broadened tax base.

Thone originally offered his proposals shortly after he was named party chairman.

Meanwhile, the chairmen of 7 convention committees were named:

Robert V. Denney, Fairbury, platform; W. C. Fraser, Omaha, resolutions; Phil Robinson, Hartington, credentials; Mrs. Martha Rohrick, Scottsbluff, rules; Clarence Meyer, Lincoln, parliamentarian; Kermit Wagner, Schuyler, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Emma Nutzman, Nenawka, auditing; Mrs. Edna Basten Donald, Grand Island, temporary convention chairman.

The convention will begin at 10 a.m., Friday with a report by Thone.

Rep. John Byrnes of Wisconsin will deliver the key note address.

Gov Dwight Burney will speak at the afternoon session.

Republicans will precede their convention with a Thursday evening fund-raising dinner address by Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota, 1960 national convention keynoter

West Germans Say Reds Gave Shooting Orders

Bonn (UPI) — The West German Defense Ministry charged that East Germany has ordered the shooting down of all West German military planes that stray over communist territory and do not obey orders to land.

The ministry also accused the East Germans of forging documents to frame as spies any pilots who were shot down.

The ministry statement was attributed to "trustworthy reports" and claimed that Communist East German party leader Walter Ulbricht gave the order.

Eddie Teater Heads Teenage Activities

Eddie Teater has been elected president of the Teenage Activities Council, according to Norma Brock, newly chosen secretary-treasurer .

She said Wednesday that Lynn Perry was named vice president. The 74-member organization's aims are to promote educational attainment and regular church attendance among Lincoln youth 13 to 18 years old.

Pressman's Luck, Skill Net Rewards

Alex J. Fischer, pressman for the Journal-Star Printing Co., has earned the title of "luckiest guy in the plant" from his fellow workers after winning about $1,000 on a New York television quiz show

Fischer and his wife, Molly, of 632 Garfield, appeared on "Who Do You Trust?" Wednesday afternoon, and managed to take away $850 in winnings from correct answers and an additional bonus for guessing the show's final puzzler, a group of scrambled letters.

Fischer's luck started when he was awarded $125 for a money-saving suggestion to the Journal-Star management —money which allowed him to take his family with him when he went to New York City as a local delegate for the convention of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union.

Magazines From U.S. Help Stop Communism, Club Told

Zonta Club members, in their second year of sending U.S. magazines abroad to advertise the American way of life, received real proof that their efforts are paying off in the fight against communism.

Mrs. Elmer Scheele, chairman of the Lincoln club's international relations committee, received word from a social education organizer in the Kerala State, South India, on the impact of the "Magazines For Friendship" program.

Have Message

V. K. John related how magazines are distributed to English-reading residents and to libraries in the former communist territory, commenting "I feel that your magazines have a message in them.

"They tell that communism is bad, that if you work hard you will prosper and God helps those who help themselves."

Mrs. Scheele explained that Kerala had been under communist rule until an election this year, and that Lincoln and other Zonta clubs had been urged to send their used magazines to the area last year in order to counteract communist influence. In the February election the communists were ousted and the democratic government reestablished.

Raises Prestige

"Indeed, the threat of communism was very real in Kerala and it has been temporarily defeated," John wrote. "I feel that the distribution of these magazines goes a long way in spreading ideas about the U.S.A. and also to raise the prestige of your country in India."

Mrs. Scheele reports that the Lincoln chapter of Zonta has enlisted the aid of 50 organizations and a number of individuals in collecting used American magazines for the project.

A total of 2,139 periodicals were sent abroad by the Lincoln group in a 9-month period, she said.

However, she added, "huge areas of would-be readers of our magazines have still not been supplied and many more senders of magazines are needed."

"It would be a wonderful thing if our entire community would get behind the Magazines for Friendhsip program," she said. "We could make a tremendous contribution in helping to win friends for America throughout the world."

Students Recovering From Crash Injuries

Charles G. Wallace, 22, of 3625 L, injured when the car in which he was riding struck a parked car, was in good condition at a local hospital Wednesday.

Another injured rider, Gary B. Walker, 21, of 1510 Vine was released by the hospital to the Student Health Clinic at the University of Nebraska. Both men are U of N students.

The two men received a number of cuts in the accident.

An Announcement By HENRY FORD II

Of Importance To Every Buyer Of A 1961 Automobile . . .

The Warranty On All 1961 Ford Motor Company Cars Is Being Extended To 12,000 Miles Or One Full Year

The 1961 line of all Ford Motor Company passenger cars will bring to the American market the finest automobiles ever produced by this company.

Every Ford, Falcon, Thunderbird, Mercury, Comet and Lincoln-Continental has been styled, designed, engineered and manufactured with three primary goals in mind: (1) Finest Quality; (2) Greatest Durability; (3) Most Reliable Operation.

So confident are we of the success of our efforts to achieve these goals that the written warranty on all 1961 Ford Motor Company cars is being extended to 12,000 miles or one-full-year, whichever comes first.

No other American automobile carries a warranty like this. The previous Ford warranty, traditional in the industry, was for 4,000 miles or three months.

We urge every prospective purchaser of a 1961 car to visit his Ford Motor Company dealer and learn all about the dealer's new 12,000-mile or one-full-year warranty.

Henry Ford II

President
Ford Motor Comapny

ARRIVAL DATES:

SEPTEMBER 29: The New Ford Line. Sixteen All-New, Full-Size Models with the Classic Ford Look, ranging from the Value-Leader Fairlanes to Six New Trend-Setting Galaxies.

OCTOBER 6: The 1961 Falcons and Comets. America's most successful Compact Car Combination from America's largest producer of Compact Cars.

OCTOBER 6: The New Mercury Line, with Completely New Styling and wider range of models.

THE AMERICAN ROAD, DEARBORN, MICHIGAN

No End In Sight

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It has been said in some quarters that the meetings around the state of the Highway Advisory Commission are strictly political. The thought expressed the belief that since there was nothing that could be done beyond what the State Highway Department already had planned to do, there could be no other reason for the meetings.

Maybe this concept of things is right but it is not the theory to which we subscribe.

Bipartisan In Nature

The issue can now be argued without partisanship because the program was initiated under a Democratic administration and is now being carried on under Republican successorship. It is plainly true that appearances of the advisory group throughout the state do not bring about the construction of additional roads. The state has just so much money to speed and it isn't going to be changed any by large delegations of people making a case for one road or another. But such an argument constitutes over-simplification.

There is more to any highway program than just the amount of money you have. There is the even greater question of how and where you spend it. The appearances of the commission throughout the state should certainly give the group a better understanding of needs and, thus, contribute to the formulation of a more sound and acceptable program.

And the same thing works in the opposite direction. When the commission goes out into the state, it also explains its problems and this leads to greater public understanding. When people in an area understand that highway funds are from one-third to two-thirds short of the overall demand, they should be a little more reasonable in their demands.

Part of the criticism that was directed against former State Engineer L. N. Ress was that nobody else ever had a say in anything. Delegation after delegation from out in the state made the trip to Lincoln to discuss highway problems and went away disgusted with their reception as well as their achievements. Past state administrations have overlooked the all important element of public understanding and appreciation in their dealings with this problem.

In bringing home to people across the state the financial problems of road-building, the Highway Department is doing a service to the public. These meetings time after time after time have pointed out the great gap which exists between road demands and funds available for construction purposes. At the last meeting of the group in Grand Island, it was explained by acting State Engineer John Hossack that a move is under way which would make this disparity even greater.

The movement would mean a cut of one cent in both the state and federal gasoline tax. If the statewide meetings have done anything, they have shown that such a move would be disastrous. All the evidence points clearly in just the opposite direction.

Hossack said he did not favor any increase in either tax at this time but the financial picture in Nebraska is going to have to be overhauled some place along the line if such problems as the road-building bind are ever to be met. This, of course, puts us right back on the trail of a broadened tax base.

It is amazing how many times public issues come back to this point. Development of the proposed system of lakes along the Interstate Highway from Grand Island to North Platte could hinge on nothing more than the availability of money. And how much more money can be squeezed from present property tax sources is a serious question, indeed. Perhaps the question of money sources has not come home even to those who are being appraised of the lack of funds for highway work but it should be easily understood by those who care to examine the facts. The state has now held eight of these hearings on highway matters throughout Nebraska.

Heavy Property Tax Load

The final meeting is scheduled for this week in Fremont and there is no doubt that it, too, will produce needs far in excess of the state's ability to meet them. These meetings have been political only for those who are so unimaginative and partisan that that is the only thing they can see.

Clinton School Back In Action

CLINTON, Tenn. — A monument to a healthier America opened its doors in this little Tennessee hill town last week. It's a new schoolhouse, built on the ashes of a school that was dynamited by unknown hatemongers during a period of sickness that Americans want to forget.

Children from all over the United States, and even South America and Europe, contributed nickles and dimes and gave up soft drinks to "Buy A Brick For Clinton." They bought bricks because they were ashamed that anyone who called himself an American should take advantage of school children by blowing up their school; because they didn't want the school children of one community to suffer.

I came down to Clinton to see the new school, and I can report to the many thousands who bought bricks that they can be proud of what they helped to build.

The new school stands on the same hill as the old building which was blown up on Oct. 5, 1958, two years after it had obeyed a court order to integrate nine Negro children. When I had come here shortly after the explosion, plaster and broken glass were strewn everywhere. The brick walls were bulging. A gaping hole yawned in the concrete floor outside the English room. Steel lockers in which children kept their books and coats were twisted into weird shapes.

But now, how different! Neat rows of school lockers line the walls, a locker for every one of the 900 children.

W. D. Human, the school principal, who wept as he saw the old building go up in smoke, was in gay mood as he presided. Judge J. D. Yarnell, with O. C. Mayes and the school board members who had come to Washington to try to see President Eisenhower after the explosion, were at the dinner and feeling better than on that earlier occasion when Ike not only refused to see them but when his officials held out little hope for federal funds.

But they had pushed ahead without help, had resolved that the children of Clinton should not miss one day of school, had borrowed an old schoolhouse from nearby Oak Ridge, swept it out, dusted the chairs, and made the substitute schoolhouse do until the new building was opened.

So last week you could sense a note of justifiable pride among the people of Clinton as they raised the stars and stripes on a slim new flagpole in front of their monument to a healthier America.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: What are some staple foods that should be avoided when one has arteriosclerosis? I am a retired man. — J. R. N."

Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) is a long, slow process which varies in accordance with our heredity mode of living over the years, and—possibly — diet.

Dr. Molner

By the time you've reached retirement age, you can't expect that a change of diet is going to make any noticeable difference. By "change of diet," I mean eating or avoiding any particular foods.

Rather, here are the things which I believe will be of genuine value to you: (1) Keep your weight down to a normal level, that is, don't let yourself be fat; (2) avoid fats in the diet, within reason, and lean toward vegetable fats rather than animal fats; (3) get some regular exercise, every day, exercise that is reasonable for a man of your age; (4) and remember that a calm, even diposition helps. Don't "blow your top" over trifles, and don't stew over little annoyances. In fact, learn to take things as they come and enjoy life!

"Dear Dr. Molner: If a person isn't supposed to take salt, is it not to be cooked in food either, or is it not to be used as raw salt? Can a patient get away with it? —G. McM."

It doesn't make a particle of difference whether it is cooked or not. Salt is salt. The patient may "get away with it" so far as lying to the doctor goes — but the patient's body won't be fooled. If you use no salt at the table, but put salt in food before it is cooked, the body will receive the salt. Do you "fool the doctor?" Maybe. Or maybe he figures out what you're doing.

Do you fool your own body? No!

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is a good replacement for lettuce? I detest few foods but hate to eat lettuce every day. I'm 14. — E. P."

Well, there are cabbage, romaine, dandelion greens, spinach, celery (including the tops), water cress, parsley, beet greens, turnip greens and a few other leafy vegetables. How about leaf lettuce instead of head lettuce? And if none of these will work, by the time you are 15 maybe you'll have decided that lettuce with other kinds of dressing isn't so bad after all.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I like a cup of instant coffee between meals. Is hot water from the tap in the hotel safe?—H. H."

Yes.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I used to weigh 200 pounds but since dieting have lost considerable weight. My problem is my tummy. It's loose and flabby. What can I do to tighten up the muscles and flabby skin? I have a reducing machine but it doesn't help much. — Mrs. J. E."

It's a common problem. The skin stretches and it doesn't snap back like a rubber band when you reduce. Machines and massage are not the solution. Occasionally in extreme cases plastic surgery is done to draw up the lose skin. Your best bet is a suitable girdle. This sagging skin of tummy, breast and arm is one of the penalties of prolonged overweight, and should be a warning to people to reduce before too much stretching has occurred.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that by taking the following mixture every morning one can help keep weight down: One cup epsom salts, juice of three lemons, one teaspoon of cream of tartar, and enough water to make one quart. Is there anything in this that would be harmful? — Mrs. H."

What a foul, irritating potion that would be! It sounds to me like the sort of mess somebody would concoct for somebody else to take! I wouldn't take it on a bet — and the only way it would reduce your weight would be to make you so nauseated that you couldn't eat. Forget it. Or, if you are still in doubt, go to the person who advised this junk, and see if she or he takes it. If she says yes, then ask to watch her do it each morning for two weeks. (If she takes it even once, I'll be surprised.) It's amazing the potions people will tell their friends to take — but they don't take themselves.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Elkhorn Breakthrough

The Elkhorn valley has a history of beauty and abundance, a fertile friable soil and a watershed that extends from Nebraska sandhills to the Platte. For many years it was considered that a man with an Elkhorn valley farm had it made.

This week 92 farm owners, attending a meeting of the Elkhorn Valley Water Resources Committee authorized a select group to proceed with the organization of a nonprofit corporation for the development and management of the valley's water resources. That is a wordy way of saying that Elkhorn valley farmers have seen the light. They are going in for irrigation as soon as events will permit.

Nebraska wishes them success with all possible speed.

It is not that the Valley is failing to produce by the old standards. But it is that the Elkhorn farmers are convinced that old production standards are not holding up. The secure farmer of the future is the one who can average 100 bushels or better of corn where formerly 60 bushels were more than sufficient. The valley can well give up the acres which must become the floor of reservoirs. They will go out of production but the rest of the valley will more than make it up. In this period of farm uncertainty some things are dependably true. Mechanization and technical intensification has made agriculture ever more competitive and what ever may be the farm program efforts the ultimate winner as ever will be the most productive operator.

The awakening of the Elkhorn Valley is a fine portent. Eastern Nebraska, once the king of agricultural production, has been slow to realize the necessity of water management. The new program is evidence of a welcome change.

A Consequence To Be Expected

National business corporations, according to the Wall Street Journal, are concerned by what they describe as a formidable problem posed by state tax gatherers.

They are running into a rising tide of sales and use taxes imposed by states other than those in which the corporations are chartered, and the complaint is that many states are erecting what amounts to custom offices at their borders. Even more than that some states are establishing what amounts to branch tax offices in other states. California, for instance, maintains an office in New York City where its investigators inquire into business done by national corporations in California and whether that state received the proper amount of taxes.

The greater pressure on non-resident corporations doing business within a state stems from two sources. One is that the states need more money and are following the doctrine that it is unjust to levy use or income taxes on domestic corporations while allowing non domestic corporations free use of the state's markets. The other is that recent Supreme Court decisions, as evidenced in the Minnesota case against an Iowa cement corporation, protects the state's point of view. Because the Iowa company maintained a branch office in Minnesota that state determined that its tax laws covered that part of the company's business done in Minnesota.

One can observe the new tax phenomenon and speculate what it will mean to have the United States divided into what amounts to sovereign countries full of customs barriers, but it is no more than an eventuality to be expected from the trend of recent decades to enlarge and consolidate business in certain favorable areas to the impoverishment of state coffers in areas not so selected. Bigness cannot have its cake an eat it too.

The practical answer is not to sweat the hungry states, but to re-diversify business and industry.

Epitome Of Inconsistency

For a real case of inconsistency, one could do no better than cite the example given this week by the Nebraska State School Boards Association. In resolutions adopted in several areas the association presented principles of belief that were diametrically opposed to one another. The conclusion might be that the association is not beneath political considerations when it suits its fancy.

Resolving against the election rather than the appointment of the office of state commissioner of education and against the abolition of the State Board of Education, the association noted: "Abolition of the state board and election of the commissioner are important, as the object of the proposed amendment, but they are not fundamental. Rather they are symptomatic of the narrow and extremely localized concept of education that characterizes the amendment's proponents—one no doubt sincerely held but nevertheless mistaken."

In approving of annual state support of schools to the tune of "at least" $100 per resident student, the association noted: ". . . adequate financial support is the basic problem of most Nebraska schools . . . differences in taxable wealth and tax levies constitute a major obstacle to sound school district reorganization and cause great differences in both the cost and quality of education . . ."

In these words the association has condemned any narrow and localized concept of education, has recognized the financial plight of most school districts and has confirmed the existence of economic inequalities throughout our educational system. But on federal aid to education, which the group voted 57 to 35 against, all the above principles were reversed.

In the resolution condemning federal aid, the association said: ". . . Nebraska is far from exhausting its own potentialities for the support of good schools . . ." In explaining the federal aid resolution, the association noted: "This resolution calls attention to Nebraska's need to become more aware of and responsive to its own responsibilities for education." Where did our financial problems and our narrow-mindedness suddenly disappear to?

How state aid can be sought and federal aid deplored is a paradox we completely fail to comprehend. How you can have a financial problem one minute and none the next is hard to fathom. How you can be an isolationist one minute and an internationalist the next is a unique peculiarity. But it takes all kinds to make a world and the association does have its good points.

TV A Showcase But Not A Forum

ON TOUR WITH VICE-PRESIDENT NIXON — The television debate gave the candidates for president a showcase, not a forum. The results, therefore, are largely subjective, but some facts can be stated with authority.

Sen. John Kennedy's managers are happy. Vice-President Richard Nixon's handlers are apprehensive.

Part of the story is purely physical.

The Democratic nominee looks and is charming. His movements have a patrician grace and the cruel cameras are kind to his rounded face, which refuses to betray campaign fatigue.

Nixon decided months ago that his pudgy look was a handicap. He took to diet and massage to tame his jowls and heavyweight aspect. But the camera picked out bones and nerves: he looked tired, and perspiration he dared not touch betrayed his intense inner concentration.

Republicans were calling in to discover whether their nominee was as tired as he seemed. They were told he was not, that the make-up insisted upon by the television experts was to blame.

☆ ☆ ☆

Part of the Nixon problem was the awkwardness of his stance and movements. He has an infected knee and he struck the other one on the car door as he entered the television studios.

Behind the bones is the question of self-confidence. Here Kennedy won hands down.

He set the pace of the argument, such as it was. He stated his position firmly and keyed it securely to the Democratic party, its majority and its past presidents. He was polite to his rival, but he never embraced him.

Many Democrats want more fire and warmth from their candidate, but none can complain that he does not identify himself with them and their aspirations. He was a party man in his own way, fully as much as Harry Truman, in the historic TV debate.

The vice-president has a different and harder problem. If he identifies himself with orthodox Republicanism, he runs the risk of alienating the swing vote which is vital in big states and increasingly more important in the South and Midwest. He must pick and choose a path.

His technique for solving it is to identify himself with the Kennedy goals for America but to suggest that he and a Republican party under his guidance can achieve them without resorting to radical or too costly methods. That the "me-too" path is rough and strewn with pitfalls, previous Republican presidential candidates can testify.

Regular Republicans cringed at the frequency with which Nixon said, "I agree with Senator Kennedy," though he went on to explain that he had better ways of reaching the same goals. Nor are party managers too happy over his breach of the old political rule that no candidate concedes anything to his rival and, if beaten, contends he was robbed.

The question before Nixon today is this: Has he gone too far in his effort to capture the independent voters and disaffected Democrats? Will the sacrifice of his rubicund vitality to a more seemingly respectable image pay off?

Case For Youth

St. Paul, Neb.

It looks as if Mrs. Catchpool is falling for the Republican line that Mrs. Kennedy is just a beautiful clothes-horse. Mrs. C. obviously wrote her letter prior to reading The Star's articles about Mrs. Kennedy.

Few of our First Ladies could act as an interpreter, as translator of books, could as easily be a careerist in their own right.

Wouldn't it be pleasant to know that our First Lady would be at her husband's side at home caring for his children, trying in her quiet way to make his job lighter, keeping domestic issues properly in the background? Many of our women many years her senior could use some of her common sense in regard to being a homemaker in the truest sense of the word, and not be off having their faces lifted or their figures readjusted.

As for youth in the White House, let's take a look at the record, as the politicians would say. Frances Cleveland was 22, Julia Tyler was but 24. President Wilson's second wife was described as young and beautiful. Harriet Lane, blonde and beautiful niece of bachelor James Buchanan, was his hostess; her age, the early 30's.

Outside of our country, the two Queen Elizabeths ascended the English throne in their 20's and no one disputes the beauty of the present queen of England.

Let's be fair. Mrs. Kennedy is exceptionally well qualified to be First Lady—brains and common sense. And I don't think anyone will complain about beauty. There is so little of it in the world situation today.

MRS. D.

Teenage Needs

Lincoln, Neb.

The Teenage Activity Council, chartered in February of 1959 to promote educational attainments, religious sincerity and community interests of its members, appreciates all expressions of interest from individuals in the problems and activities of youth. The programs we propose can best be implemented by young people who realize their own needs in these fields.

These young people need adult friends and advocates to help them in their efforts. The program is strictly limited to young people between 13 and 18 years of age and those who want to help them realize their own purposes. Nobody gets a salary or a profit from the work. There is much work and expense involved in helping 75 teenagers. The help of several interested citizens encourages us to continue and we believe others will help us get the support we need to meet the needs of our group. These young people provide much of their own funds and their weekly meetings certainly indicate their own vital interest in keeping their purposes enforced.

Their need is for a regular meeting place of their own where their basic interests in study groups, conferences with parents and other interested adults, and a better understanding of each other can be continued. All parents should know other teenagers besides their own sons and daughters and thereby learn in a first-hand way what the young people think, and plan for their own good.

Do-Nothing Policy

Wilber, Neb.

Sen. Dirksen in his speech at Fremont has reminded his listeners that Americans have gone to war under the last two Democratic presidents. They had good reason for doing so. If the Republicans had been in office at the time and had done nothing, as they have in the past eight years, the country would now be overrun.

Oh, yes, the Republicans have kept us out of war—and at what a price! We have been humiliated by Russia, lost the respect of other nations, our President humiliated by Khrushchev; nothing has been done about the capture of Powers, and communism has been left to spread all over Europe, Asia, Africa and even to our door in Cuba, and even our own soil is ripe for communism.

Considering the past eight years, if we should have another Republican as president in order to avoid a war, we might as well turn the United States over to Russia on a silver platter. "Do-nothing Republicans" — that is the reason Russia has become so bold. If we had FDR, Truman, or now, Sen. Kennedy as president, they would make Russia shut up and like it. We are now a second-rate nation — thanks to the Republicans who made it so.

DR. C. L. MALLET

A New Nixon?

Lincoln, Neb.

Contrary to the belief of Bob Englund (Star, Sept. 24), many of us still question the character of Richard Nixon. If there is a new, new Nixon, as Republicans claim, it is not apparent in his voting record. His crucial tie-breaking votes in the Senate as vice president follow the same Old Guard pattern to which he conformed as a senator and congressman.

His farm program shows no sound reasoning and he has avoided detailed discussion of the other issues under the old "apple pie and motherhood" emotionalism.

As for his famed "experience," he's been little more than a highly placed errand boy — first, for his California big business backers, and then for President Eisenhower.

Federal Right-Of-Way Ruling Slows Interstate

The recent ruling from the federal government that states must have completed purchase of all right-of-way on each Interstate Highway project before construction contracts can be let has resulted in a general slow-down on the highway, Acting State Engineer John Hossack said Wednesday.

The new restriction became effective after the Highway Department's August letting.

Prior to this change, the Deparment had been letting contracts on projects when land acquisition was in the final stages—generally reaching completion within one month of the contract letting, he said.

Affects Urban Areas

While the resulting slowdown is general, it is more noticeable in urban areas where many more properties are involved.

"There may be 20 properties involved in a rural project, compared with 200 to 300 properties in an urban project," Hossack said, adding that "sometimes it takes a lot of work to get that last property purchased."

In spite of this new problem, the Department is "creeping up gradually" to its goal of dividing Interstate Highway funds at the ratio of 23% for urban projects and 77% for rual projects, Hossack said.

Approaches 20%

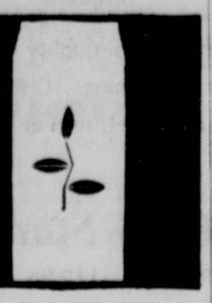
The Department's latest financial report, August 31, shows that 19.3% of the funds placed under project agreement are on urban projects, and 80.7% are on rural projects.

The financial report at the end of April showed only 10.2% of the funds had been placed under agreement in urban areas, compared with 89.8% in rural areas.

Dollar amounts under agreement at the end of August were $10,567,475 on urban projects, and $44,248,740 on rural areas.

Hossack said the department still hopes to get to the desired 23-77 split by the end of this year.

Look what we went and did!



Hossack Remains 'Acting' Engineer On Own Request

Governor Dwight Burney announced Wednesday that Acting State Engineer John Hossack will remain in his "acting" capacity at Hossack's own request.

When he succeeded to the governorship, Burney indicated he might make Hossack's post permanent rather than "acting," but after conferring with Hossack, Burney said the engineer's status would remain as is.

This leaves the door open for Hossack to return to his former position as planning engineer if the new state administration desires to change the head of the Highway Department next January.

The late Governor Ralph Brooks placed Hossack in the top post after former State Engineer R. L. Cochran resigned Dec. 31.

Three other highway officials named to "acting" posts when Hossack went up, also will remain in their current positions to the end of Burney's term.

They are Acting Deputy State Engineer G. C. Strobel, Acting Planning Engineer Bruce Gillan, and Acting Design Engineer Don E. Coffey.

Strobel, formerly design engineer, succeeded former Deputy Henry Schlitt whose resignation went in with Cochran's.

Lincoln Schools Add Instructor In RussianLanguage

An instructor in Russian has been added to the faculty of the Lincoln Public Schools for the first time.

Mrs. Helen Jacobsen, hired on a half-time basis, has established classes of from 12 to 15 students each at Lincoln High School and Lincoln Southeast High School.

The classes consist of juniors generally with a few sophomores and seniors, according to Superintendent Steven Watkins.

Mrs. Jacobsen, whose husband is a graduate student at the University of Nebraska, is a Brooklyn College graduate and has taught Russian to New York high school students.

Dave Martin's One-Man GOP Campaign Blankets 4th District

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of 12 articles on the candidates for major office.)

By Don Walton

Customers on a Grand Island Transit Co., city bus—who had been reading or aimlessly staring out a window—were startled back to reality by the smiling, easy-talking man who worked his way down the matted aisle.

"Good afternoon. I'm Dave Martin, Republican candidate for Congress," the congenial, 53-year-old campaigner tells them one by one.

"Here's my card."

Thus, thorough, hard-working, Kearney businessman David T. Martin is covering the vast Fourth Congressional District from supermarket and street corner to country schoolhouse and parked bus.

Alighting from the bus, Martin continues on foot down sun-drenched downtown sidewalks, offering an outstretched hand and his introduction to every passerby.

He steps down from the curb to greet potential voters in parked cars and darts two steps at a time up into a second floor office structure.

Then, Martin hops into his own car and pursues the voter into neighborhood shopping centers.

David T. Martin

Candidate: Congress, Fourth District.

Party: Republican.

Age: 53.

Family: Married, 3 children.

Profession: Lumber dealer.

MARTIN . . . chats with Grand Island housewives. (Star Staff Photo.)

Conservative Republican Dave Martin believes he can unseat one-term Democratic Rep. Don McGinley if Fourth District residents will trek to the polls in large numbers Nov. 8.

And, Martin thinks this presidential election year and the popularity of Richard Nixon will bring Republicans out in hordes.

Points To Primary

A former (1949-54) GOP state chairman, Martin points to the fact that 64.5% of his district's May primary balloters were Republicans.

And, he realizes that 42,097 Fourth District Republicans who voted in 1956 failed to vote in 1958 when McGinley became the district's first Democratic congressman since 1934.

All this, Martin believes, means one thing: get out the vote, and he will be elected.

Six of the Fourth District's 38 counties (comprising about 60% of Nebraska) hold half of the area's potential vote.

Thus, Martin will concentrate most of his remaining campaign efforts in Hall, Buffalo, Custer, Lincoln, Scotts Bluff and Dawson Counties.

Every County

Yet, at the same time, he will not ignore the other 32. By Election Day, he will have personally ventured into every county.

Martin is traveling at the rate of about 1,200 miles per week, and has been on the road for 3 months.

He shakes hands with up to 4,000 persons each week, and will move into 9 out of every 10 communities in the huge district.

Martin travels almost entirely by car (and foot), although he has boarded planes and trains for especially long journeys.

The candidate is employing direct mail, newspaper advertising, some radio spot announcements and considerable television time in his bid for the congressional seat.

Contact Stressed

Most important, he believes, is the personal contact.

And so, Martin has climbed ladders and onto tractors, moved from customer to customer down lunch counters and into farm houses and cafe kitchens in pursuit of the voter.

For what does he stand?

Martin is a self-described Goldwater conservative.

He plugs for a balanced federal budget, debt reduction, "firm opposition to welfare state schemes," and "balance" in the labor-management field.

He is highly critical of McGinley's economy record and "the fact that he voted with labor" on the final version of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill.

He also flays McGinley for alleged inconsistency in his voting record.

Dave Martin is going to arise early Election Day.

He'll down a quick breakfast, and then hurry off to his duck blind 10 miles west of Kearney on the Platte River for a morning of hunting.

There, content that he has done his job well, he will forget this arduous campaign and await the judgment of the voter.

County, Clinic Building Corp. Compromise Taxes Dispute

Lancaster County and the Clinic Bldg. Corp. of 3145 O have reached a compromise in a dispute over the corporation's 1959 and 1960 personal property taxes.

Lancaster District Judge Paul White Wednesday approved a stipulated settlement in two tax appeal cases brought by the corporation against the county.

It was agreed the corporation's 1959 personal property inventory should be valued at $47,000. The firm had claimed the inventory value was $29,000 and the county had contended it was $84,075.

The agreed 1960 inventory value was $68,000. The corporation had claimed the proper value was $42,000 and the county contended it was $76,795.

The corporation had appealed the inventory values placed on its fixtures and equipment by the County Board of Equalization.

Taxes will now be figured on the agreed values.

Council Committees Set Meeting Dates

Taxpayers Save Steps In New Setup

Starting Monday motorists may pay their vehicle tax and get their license plates in the same Courthouse office.

Under the new plan, taxes will be figured in County Assessor Arthur Davis' office and then the next stop will be the license bureau where the taxes will be paid and the new plates secured. Both offices are in the basement.

Previously, after getting the tax statement from Davis' office it was necessary to go to the first floor office of County Treasurer C. E. Berg to pay the taxes and then to return to the basement to get the license plates.

New license tabs for 1961 will not go on sale until January as usual.

Replacement For Golden Unnecessary

Governor Dwight Burney said Wednesday he has been informed by State Agricultural Director Pearle Finigan that a consolidation of positions in the Agriculture Department will make it unnecessary to name a replacement for Frank Golden, chief of the cigarette tax division.

Burney, a Republican, last week requested the resignation of Golden, who is also Lancaster County Democratic chairman.

The government said he did not feel it was right for Golden to hold the two positions at the same time, and asked that he resign, effective October 1.

Burney, who has the power to hire and fire employes of the Agriculture Department, said he was "not going to insist" that Finigan hire a replacement if he thinks it is not necessary.

"If the work can be done without the head of the department, that means an extra saving for the state," the governor said.

Construction Of Bridges Closes No. Cotner Blvd.

No. Cotner from 66th to Vine was closed for construction Wednesday and police said the 6-block stretch will remain closed at least two months.

A new bridge over Dead Man's Run on No. Cotner just north of Vine will be the first project and after it is completed a new bridge will be built near 66th and Cotner.

Total cost of the two projects is about $140,000.

Named To Board

Governor Burney Wednesday appointed Talitha Johnson of Omaha to the Board of Examiners of the Cosmetology Division of the State Board of Health for the term beginning Nov. 30 and ending Nov. 30, 1963

Dry Platte Below Columbus 'Likely'

. . . If Contemplated Projects Built

Columbus (AP)—Nebraska Public Power System engineers are predicting that if all contemplated Bureau of Reclamation works are built in Nebraska, the day may come when Platte River water may be in short supply below Columbus.

Such a situation — which could be 10 to 20 years away in the opinion of NPPS engineers—would not affect power supplies since the government has offered to pay in money or replacement power what it has taken for upstream uses. But it could limit the water supply for industrial use below Columbus by its expansion of irrigation upstream.

Nebraska News

In its monthly "News Letter," NPPS declared that the main reason the Platte River is more than a sand bed below Columbus is the discharge of Loup River waters through the Loup River Public Power District into the Platte at Columbus.

But, the News Letter says, irrigation projects either operating or planned for the Loup River Basin, are calculated to impound and use approximately 385,000 acre feet of Loup waters at full development.

As an example of what might happen, NPPS said, on July 18—before the start of Upper Loup Basin irrigation, the Loup River flow at Genoa was 11,900 second feet per day. Within a few days it dropped to less than 800.

NPPS said further reduction in flows during the summer months "could mean a dry Platte River from Columbus to the Elkhorn, in a river already dry from Kearney to Columbus."

Mrs. Kruger, 34, Dies Suddenly

Lincoln Star Special

Edgar — Funeral services are pending here for Mrs. Ernest Kruger, 34, of Omaha who died early Wednesday after a sudden illness. She was the former Bonnie Swanson, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Arthur H. Swanson of Edgar.

Surviving are her husband, daughter, Michele; son Anthony Arthur; parents; brothers, Guy A. of Albuquerque, N.Mex., and Robert of Edgar; and sister, Mrs. Justin Merrill of Edgar.

New Bridge Over Nemaha Sought

Falls City (UPI) — A proposal calling for construction of a new bridge over the Nemaha River north of Preston will be submitted to Richardson County voters in the Nov. 8 election.

The bridge was washed away during a spring flood.

The proposition calls for a $100,000 bond issue to finance the $200,000 job. The federal government will finance the other half of the cost.

Pleased Farmers Plan Increase In Acreage For Castor Beans

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

Hastings—At the first annual castor bean field day here Wednesday, a wide open field for increased acreage of castor bean production in Nebraska was forecast by Dr. Wayne E. Domingo of La Mesa, Calif., a representative of Baker Castor Oil Co.

With a castor bean field on the R. Howard Smith farm as a setting, Domingo spoke to an enthusiastic group of an estimated 500 south central Nebraska businessmen and farmers.

His audience was anxious to learn more about the crop with a thousand uses, ranging from a part in the manufacture of lipstick to the launching of missiles.

Domingo expressed satisfaction with the castor bean production in Nebraska and he told farmers they could supply an ever increasing demand for a crop that is now 90% imported.

The 1,500 acres of commercially produced castor beans received a strong vote of approval from south central Nebraska farmers.

Farmers raising the castor beans estimated their yield at near 2,000 pounds per acre. They have contracted the crop for 5.3 cents per pound delivered to Hastings from where the crop will be shipped to the Baker Castor Oil Co. at Bayonne, N.J., for processing.

Describing castor oil as a product that is used by the teaspoonful for youngsters and gulped by industry by the tankcar, Don S. Bolley, technical director for Baker Castor Oil Co., told field day visitors that 56 million pounds are now used each year in the U.S., and the expected need for castor oil could reach 200 to 300 million pounds per year by 1970.

Will Plant More

Speaking as a producer, Alfred Schutte of Guide Rock told the field day visitors that he planted 50 acres of castor beans on his first try and hoped to have 100 acres next year.

All of the farmers appearing on the program indicated plans for increasing their acreage. It is expected by the South Central Nebraska Agricultural and Industrial Corporation that 1961 acreage can be hiked to 10,000 acres.

Controlling weeds seems to be the biggest problem with the new crop. Growers attribute the weed trouble to a late, wet spring and unfamiliarity with handling a new crop.

Smith said, "I'm really enthused and I'm really sold on castor beans. They have a place on our farms."

Cooperative Effort

State Director of Agriculture Pearle Finigan termed the castor bean project as a new spirit of co-operation which has spearheaded the effort to bring a new crop to Nebraska. He termed the project a co-operative effort between businessmen and farmers, with the assistance of LB 722 which provided funds for research in new crops.

Robert Hoagland of Hastings, president of the South Central Nebraska Agricultural and Industrial Corporation, said "Our castor bean program has not been a one man show. Everyone has worked for its success."

He paid special tribute to the sponsors of the field day. They were the South Central group, Hastings Chamber of Commerce, University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, and Nebraska Department of Agriculture.

Royal Couple Take Voyage To Mt. Vernon

Washington (AP) — A gaily bedecked cruise ship carried Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko of Japan down the Potomac River Wednesday to Mount Vernon.

The imperial crysanthemum insignia of the crown prince flew from the mast of the vessel.

A small flotilla of escort vessels, including two trim Coast Guard cutters and harbor police craft, accompanied the royal couple on the 25-mile cruise.

About 900 members of the Japan-American Society and their guests, including high government officials, joined the royal couple for the informal river outing.

After the 90-minute cruise the prince and princess debarked at Mount Vernon, the home of the first American president, to lay a wreath at the tomb of George Washington.

$56,000 Released For Airport Sewage Plant

Omaha (AP)—The Air Force has released $56,000 for a new sewage treatment and disposal plant at the Sioux City, Ia., Municipal Airport.

The funding was announced by Col. Roland H. Cipolla, Air Force Regional Civil Engineer, in Omaha.

World Plow Contest

Rome (AP) — Italy's agriculture minister, Mariano Rumor, announced the eighth world motorized plowing championships will be held at Tor Mancina, near Rome, Oct. 6-10. Contestants from 16 nations will take part.

Announcing the 1961 Ford . . .
Beautifully proportioned to the

CLASSIC FORD LOOK

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority, Centro per L'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

Ford makes automotive history with the trend-setting car of our times . . . a car that goes 30,000 miles without lubrication . . . 4,000 miles between oil changes . . . adjusts its own brakes and is beautifully built to take care of you!

The 1961 Ford, already recognized for its beautiful proportions by a leading international fashion authority, introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Good-bye grease racks!

It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's wonderfully efficient Full-Flow oil filtering system lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors. The bright-metal trim is treated in depth to gleam and stay gleaming longer.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

Best of all, the '61 Ford is beautifully built to take care of you. No windshield dogleg nips your knees. Doors are extra-wide for easy entry.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself.

FORD DIVISION, Ford Motor Company

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.

CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Lincoln General 'In The Black,' Audit Shows

Lincoln General Hospital's report of annual audit shows it has "stayed in the black" by $76,365, according to Herbert A. Anderson, hospital administrator.

The hospital board received the auditors' report at its Wednesday meeting.

Rounded off to the nearest $100, hospital expenses for the one-year period of Sept. 1, 1959, to Aug. 31, 1960, totaled $1,458,400.

The previous year's expenses came to $1,341,700, Anderson said.

Salaries Take Most

Salaries and wages accounted for 57.1% of the 1960 expenses, as compared with a 60.1% outlay in 1959.

During the year, Anderson explained, there were some increases in salary costs and the total expenditure was higher, though the percentage of overall outlay dropped.

The hospital's total 1960 income was $1,534,690, the administrator reported, of which patients paid $1,420,400.

By comparison, Lincoln General's 1959 income totaled $1,461,680, he added. Of that sum, patients paid $1,253,300.

The second largest part of the hospital's expenses showed an 0.8% drop from 20.7% in 1959 to 19.9% in 1960. That part paid for operating supplies.

In smaller items of expenditure, 3 areas showed minor increases and 3 showed slight decreases between the two periods, Anderson said.

Spending for student nurse services dropped to 4.2% of the hospital total in 1960 from 5.4% in 1959. Repair and maintenance outlays decreased to 1.5% from 2.3% and depreciation dropped to 2.1% from 2.3%.

Nursing School Up

On the other hand, Anderson said, outlay for the Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing rose from 2.1% in 1959 to 2.7% in 1960.

Miscellaneous operating outgo rose more sharply from 6.3% in 1959 to 8.6% in 1960, while the catch-all of sundry expenses increased most, from 0.8% in 1959 to 3.9% in 1960.

Anderson explained that income from the hospital's cafeteria, interest, donations and other sources accounted for the differences between patient-paid fees and total income.

The annual audit, he said, is the first of two reports received annually from the auditors.

Expected next month, Anderson said, is a letter which will make recommendations for improvement in administration, financial accountability and procedural controls.

Iowa Exhibits Champ Ak-Sar-Ben Hereford

Omaha (AP) — The champion Hereford at the Ak-Sar-Ben livestock show Wednesday was shown by Phil Higgins, 13, of Earlham, Ia.

Reserve champion was shown by Kaye Pollock, 15, of Mount Auburn, Ia.

Cuming County, Neb., exhibited the champion county group of 5 steers over all breeds. The exhibit was a Hereford group. Reserve title went to Cherokee County, Ia., with 5 Angus steers.

The champion market heifer, an Angus, was shown by Steven Hammitt, 15, Logan, Ia.

Ted Gentrup of Beemer, Neb., was named champion baby beef showman.

Jim McBride, 19, of Danbury, Ia., won the Shorthorn cattle competition.

Karen Willers, 18, of Wayne, Neb., had the reserve champion.

The grand champion lamb sold for $2.70 a pound to Wilson and Co. The seller was Ronnie Hock of Smithfield, Neb.

Nixon and Co. of Omaha purchased the grand champion market hog from Linnea Ingwerson of Plattsmouth, Neb., for $2 a pound.

The reserve champion lamb, owned by Steve Eberspacher of Seward, brought 70 cents a pound from the Union Stock Yards Co. of Omaha.

J. L. Brandeis and Son purchased the grand champion pen of 3 lambs for 31 cents a pound from Eula Mae Scheer of Arlington.

Washington County, Neb., took top honors in the county groups-of-5 swine. Ronnie Gruber, 17, of Fremont County, Ia., showed the champion market litter of Yorkshire-Poland China crossbred hogs.

Rights Board Tangles With Fiery Louisiana Atty. General

New Orleans (AP) — The U.S. Civil Rights Commission ended its hearings of Negro voter discrimination charges here Wednesday in a stormy exchange with Lousiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion.

At the same time, Louisiana vote registrars and other officials, bristling over charges leveled against them, fired an angry barrage of telegrams at the 6-member fact-finding body.

Gremillion, who attended the two-day hearings as an observer, had asked to read a statement.

"We're not going to let you make a speech, Mr. Gremillion," Commission Vice Chairman Robert A. Storey said. Storey said commission rules required statements be submitted 24 hours in advance.

"Are you going to let me read this statement," Gremillion asked a second time.

"We don't think it's legal," Storey said. "If you want to be a witness, and let us examine you that will be all right. But you cannot make a speech."

"Thank you for ruling me out of order," Gremillion said and sat down.

The volatile attorney general, who last month called a 3-judge federal tribunal a "kangaroo court," faces a criminal contempt of court trial next week.

He later told newsmen he did not appear as a witness because the discrimination charges were not against him but against other state and parish (county) officials.

The commission heard 35 Negroes testify unequal application of the voter qualification law, disqualification on a host of minor points, and, in some cases, the threat of violence has held Lousiana's Negro registration down to 28% of those eligible.

Eighty-two per cent of eligible white voters are registered.

The commission said it had received upwards of 150 voter complaints from Negroes in 17 of the state's 64 parishes. Most complaints came from rural northern parishes.

In his unread statement, Gremillion said officials had picture and suggested the commission should hear the other side of the story as well.

"You have provided opportunity to hear complaints . . . I solicit equal opportunity and hearing under the same conditions (for voter registrars and other public officials)," Gremillion said in the statement.

Former State Police Chief John Nick Brown, in a telegram to the commission, said testimony he threatened the life of a Negro who tried to vote was a "false statement." Brown sent a copy of the wire to the state attorney general.

Dist. Atty. John A. Richardson of Shreveport said no one in the Caddo Parish district attorney's office had ever denied a Negro the right to vote. And "no Negro has complained to this office," Richardson added.

A telegram Gremillion gave newsmen rebutted testimony by Dr. John I. Reddix, Negro dentist from Monroe, who testified he had been purged and never been able to re-register.

Dist. Atty. Alvin Lassiter of Ouachita Parish said Reddix has refused to re-register "on the theory a grievance is a greater right than a privilege to vote."

Sheriff C. E. Hester of Madison Parish wired that the Rev. William Jeames Neal, Negro, who had testified he had tried to register many times without success, probably was unqualified because he is on probation. Hester said Neal is under suspended sentence for criminal neglect of family.

Contrary to common belief, oysters are edible all year 'round . . . even during the summer months. And people read their newspapers all year 'round . . . during the summer months, too, when television viewing and radio listening take a sharp drop.

State Expects Federal Air Aid For City

The Nebraska Department of Aeronautics anticipates $200,000 more in federal aid during the next biennium, with the increase planned for Lincoln Municipal Airport construction.

According to an estimate on file Wednesday with the state tax commissioner's office, the department expects $1,516,026 for federal airport construction aid in the next two years, compared to to $1,305,745 during the last biennium.

Jack Obbink, state aeronautics director, said the increased amount was included in anticipation that an acceptable plan would be worked out for a new Lincoln Municipal Airport.

The city now has a terminal building at the Lincoln Air Force Base. The Lincoln Airport Authority has submitted plans to build a second runway at the base for civil aviation, with a request for federal aid.

The second-runway plan was proposed after the Federal Aviation Agency failed to approve a new municipal airport east of the city.

Aeronautics Dept. Plans Town Marking

The names of 103 Nebraska communities will be painted on roofs this fall under the State Aeronautics Department's airmarking program.

Jack Obbink, aeronautics director, said the Brechtel Decorating Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, was the low bidder for the work at $48 per marker.

Of the towns, mostly in Northwestern Nebraska, 53 will get new signs and 48 will get repaints. The signs will also have arrows and numerals indicating the direction and mileage to the nearest approved airport.

New Members Honored At Tea

The Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln opened a new year of meetings and programs on Wednesday afternoon when the members entertained at tea at the Hotel Cornhusker honoring new members of the club.

A special guest was Mrs. Landis Rulla of Sterling, president of the state Federation of Women's Clubs District I.

Club Activities

The University of Nebraska FACULTY WOMEN'S NEWCOMERS Club has been holding a series of get-acquainted coffees for the wives of new faculty members. Mrs. Thomas Fritz was in charge of the series, and hostesses at their homes for the neighborhood affairs were Mrs. John Lawson, Mrs. John Moran, Mrs. James T. Horner and Mrs. Ted R. Nelson.

Special guests were Mrs. John C. Weaver, president of the NU Faculty Women's Club, Mrs. Robert Filbeck, president of the Newcomers Club, and Mrs. E. F. Frolik, welcoming chairman of the Faculty Women's Club.

Sponsoring a series of coffees this week are the members of CALVERT PTA, who have met at the school on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, with the concluding session planned for Thursday evening.

To enable the PTA members to become better acquainted, buzz sessions were held with Miss Anna Zeman, principal, and Mrs. Robert Beggs, PTA president, as speakers, followed by visits to the classrooms.

Approximately 375 attended the first fall meeting of the PERSHING SCHOOL MOTHERS Club on Tuesday afternoon. The program highlight was the presentation of 221 reading certificates by Mrs. Chester Gausman, and 142 garden awards by Mrs. Edwin Scott, to those pupils participating in the summer programs.

Mrs. Bernal Camp, as topic mistress, introduced the topic, "How The Toastmistress Clubs Began in Lincoln," at the Monday evening dinner-meeting of the Lincoln TOASTMISTRESS CLUB at the YWCA.

Responding with brief talks were Miss Cora Mae Briggs, Mrs. Bryan Stromer, Mrs. Wallace Peterson, Mrs. W. E. Woodworth and Mrs. Ava Griffin.

Toastmistress was Mrs. Henry Holst who moderated a panel "It Is the Law—Or It Ought To Be The Law". Speakers were Mrs. Jonie Kuhl and Mrs. Robert Meierhoff. Miss Harriet Turner was general evaluator, and lexicologist was Mrs. Peterson.

Guests of the club included Mrs. Meierhoff, Miss Mary Hinds, Miss Carmen Gottberg, Mrs. Carl Hoffman, Mrs. R. W. Blackburn, Mrs. John Mattox, Miss Louise Morris, Mrs. Lawson Chadwick, Mrs. L. V. Tremain and Miss Beatrice Norris.

Members and guests of Zeta Chapter, BETA SIGMA PHI, met Tuesday evening at Bethany Park for a "Shipwreck" party. First prize for the best costume went to Miss Marjorie Hoback.

Refreshments were served by the social and membership committees, and in charge of arrangements was Mrs. Louis Meinecke.

Entertaining guests last Friday evening at the Foods and Nutrition Bldg., College of Agriculture, were the members of Beta Conclave, KAPPA KAPPA IOTA, national teachers sorority.

A program on hair styling was a feature of the evening.

Lambda Chapter, BETA SIGMA PHI, entertained at a picnic supper and party recently held at the Antelope Park shelter house. Mrs. John Dirks, Miss Lois Grow and Mrs. Ray Watts were in charge of arrangements, and a talk, "What Is Beta Sigma Phi," was given by Mrs. Willis Hecht, chapter director.

Fun News In Suburbia

BETHANY HEIGHTS

The welcome mat is out this morning for Mr. and Mrs. J. Donovan Crook, and their two small sons, Michael and Joel. The Crook family moved from 1519 No. 48th to 6828 Bethany Park Dr., the latter part of August.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

It is our pleasure to introduce this morning the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. John White. The young men, Richard John and James Robert, made their debut at Lincoln General Hospital on Wednesday, Sept. 14. They have two older sisters, Linda, who is nine years old, and five year-old Kathy.

The young men's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs Pearl E. White. Mrs. White is the former Dorothy Wurm.

EASTBOROUGH

A look in our birthday book tells us that little Mary Ann Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Morgan, celebrated her third birthday anniversary on Thursday, Sept. 22. Mary Ann invited many of her preschool friends to a party at her home that morning.

Also there is mention this morning of another birthday anniversary celebration in suburbia—that of Kenneth Smay. Mr. Smay was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party at his home on Sunday evening. For the informal evening of cards the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dillon.

The welcome mat is out this morning for Lt. and Mrs. Melvin E. Wynia. Lt. Wynia, whose home is in Springfield, S. D., and Mrs. Wynia were married Aug. 26, at her home in Clinton, Wis. They moved into the home at 325 W. Rio Rd. a week ago.

MEADOW LANE

Among the newcomers on Scenic Lane are Mr. and Mrs. James C. Pope and their children, one year-old Craig and Patti, who is four years old. They moved Friday from 5430 Benton to 1121 Scenic Lane.

Understand that some adtional new residents in the suburb are Mr. and Mrs. Loren J. Bonde and their family. Formerly residing in Grand Rapids, Minn., the Bonde family moved into the home at 1021 Scenic Lane two weeks ago. The Bonde children, 13 year-old Mary and Don, 10, are attending St. John's School.

Moving into the home at 1121 Colony Lane several weeks ago were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn N. Vaughn and their five children formerly of Wright City, Mo. The younger generation of the Vaughn family includes Jimmy, 13; Jerry, 12; Glenn Jr., 6; Paul, 4; and Darlene, 2.

Receives Professional Award

The Cornhusker Chapter of the National Secretaries Association met for dinner Monday evening to honor one of its members, Miss Delores Winquest, who recently received her national Certified Professional Secretary certificate.

The certificate, awarded by the National Secretaries, is presented only to those who complete a course of intensive study and successfully pass a required examination.

Among those present to honor Miss Winquest (extreme right) were (from the left) Miss Lois Tefft, president of the group; the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Winquest of Overton; Mrs. Frank J. Carlisle, Jr., and Dr. Carlisle, Miss Winquest's employer at the U. S. Soil Conservation Service; and Miss Audrey Wheeler, president of the Nebraska-South Dakota division of the Secretaries Association.

Plans West Coast Trip

Making plans for an extensive trip by auto of western states is Mrs. Janie Jones of Kansas City, a frequent visitor in Lincoln, who does not intend to let her 91 years detract from the fun of visiting members of her family for the next six weeks.

Mrs. Jones, who until last winter maintained her own home and did most of her own housework, has spent a busy summer making jams and jellies, and canning, including 70 quarts of peaches, and now is looking forward to attending the 50th wedding anniversary of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hall, at Alameda, Calif., on Oct. 11.

Mrs. Jones will be accompanied to the west coast by her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Sharrick, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Jones, of Lincoln. En route home, the travelers plan to stop at Las Vegas, Nev., to visit Mrs. Jones's son, L. C. Jones, and family; at San Antonio, Tex., to be the guests of her grandson, K. L. Jones, and family; at Houston, Tex., where they will visit her granddaughter, Mrs. Ronald Willkens and family; and at Dallas, Tex., to visit her granddaughter, Mrs. H. L. Bernbaum, and family.

The trio will conclude the trip with several days at Walters, Okla., where Mrs. Jones resided more than 50 years ago.

Town Talk

—We could begin where we left off yesterday—with news of a bride-elect—But since this is another dawn we'll start the day's labors in another field—dancing clubs.

The new season begins rather early this year—The members of the Terpsichorean Club, for instance, will don their dancing shoes on Saturday evening, Oct. 1 when they sally forth for dining and dancing at Hotel Lincoln.

We understand that the committee, composed of the club's officers—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, president; Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Harms, vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. Judd Hughes, treasurer, and Mr. and Mrs. Tim Bickle, secretary — have chosen a Hallowe'en theme for the decor.

New members of the club include Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Maude, Mr. and Mrs. Don Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bohart.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clinton will be guests.

* * *

—Friday evening, Oct. 7, will be best-bib-and-tucker night for the members of the Mr. and Mrs. Dancing Club who will wend their way to Hotel Lincoln—and the Terrace Room for dancing.

In charge of the party is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Maser, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yetman.

Answering roll call at the first party will be new member couples Mr. and Mrs. William Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diers, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Heiliger, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hinze, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ranne, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kierstead, Mr. and Mrs. William Kryger, Mr. and Mrs. F. Duane Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Rose, Mr. and Mrs. William Springer and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wittler.

Dear Abby—

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I just received a letter from my sister telling me her son is marrying a high-class girl in November and a formal wedding invitation will follow.

We have a brother, Charlie, who lives on a farm. Charlie's wife works the soil and runs the tractor like a man. She is a good woman but she doesn't go to beauty parlors and keep herself up like some women who have more time.

My sister said she was counting on me to see to it that Charlie gets a haircut for the wedding and his wife washes herself up real good and dresses right. I am no good at getting so personal with people. How can I handle this?

CITY SISTER

DEAR CITY SISTER: Write your sister and tell her if she wants to be sure all the relatives clean up for her wedding she should do her own dirty work.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My daughter went to a dance with a girl friend, but they didn't come home together. They each met a boy at the dance and hooked rides home that way. My daughter got home at 1:30 a.m., as she said she would. Her girl friend got home at 5:30 a.m. She lied to her mother and said she was with my daughter all that time. Should I tell the girl's mother? My daughter is 19 and her girl friend is 18.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED, If YOUR daughter had stayed out until 5:30 a.m. with a fellow she met at a dance, wouldn't you want to know? "Do unto others . . ."

DEAR ABBY: Before my wife and I were married she was the most affectionate little thing in the world. We have been married only two years and now every time I go to kiss her she tells me I need a shave. What do you think is the matter with her?

NEEDS LOVE

DEAR NEEDS: The matter with HER? Maybe you just need a shave.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad "PROUD" (that beautician who considered a "tip" an insult) can't speak for all beauticians. I know lots of hairdressers who have raised families on those "insults."

Opening lead — king of clubs.

It would be much easier to defend a hand perfectly during the play if you could see the declarer's cards. Lacking this advantage, the best course to follow is to try to construct the declarer's hand from whatever knowledge can be obtained from the bidding and early plays, and then defend accordingly.

That this practice pays good dividends is illustrated in the accompanying hand. West led the A-K-Q of clubs, declarer ruffing the third one.

Having lost two tricks already, South was faced with the problem of avoiding two spade losers. In order to increase his chances of winning the hand, declarer first cashed the A-K of diamonds and then led the king and another heart to the ace. Then he played a low spade from dummy.

This plan would have worked out all right if East had played a low spade. South would have finessed the nine, losing to the king, but West would then have been endplayed. Any return by West would give South the rest of the tricks.

But East, who had kept track of all that had been going on, prevented the endplay from taking place when he produced the queen on the spade lead from dummy.

South could do nothing to cope with this defense. If he took the ace, he would lose two spade tricks whether he led back the jack or nine, while if he ducked the queen, East would return a spade to put declarer out of business. So South went down one.

Why is it that East in this hand violates the usual rule of second hand playing low? Because he can tell from the previous plays that South has exactly three spades, and that an endplay is therefore imminent unless he puts up the queen.

He knows that declarer started with six hearts and two clubs precisely. From the way South handled the diamonds, East also knows declarer started with A-K alone. With ten of declarer's cards in three suits accounted for, East can deduce with certainty that South started with three spades.

Married At Autumn Weddings

MRS. RICARDO MORALES

At an 11 o'clock morning service on Monday, Sept. 12, Miss Lois Marie Laun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Laun of Tobias, became the bride of Ricardo Morales, son of Ignacia Batzabe Morales of Guatemala. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Robert T. Sheehy at St. Thomas Aquinas Church.

As her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Ellen Laun wore a full-skirted frock of green nylon sheer over satin.

Harold Bethune served as best man, and seating the guests was Jerry Bringle.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white silk organza over taffeta. Appliques of Venise lace in the leaf motif trimmed the bateau neckline of the basqued bodice and were repeated in redingote effect on the bouffant skirt, which extended into a train. A pearl crown held her illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Morales will make their home in Lincoln. The bride is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska, of which Mr. Morales is a former student.

MRS. DELBERT MERLE CROUSE

For the wedding of Miss Suzanne Roselie Bowker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Schwartz of Hildreth, and Delbert Merle Crouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Crouse, Bloomington, on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 4, white and pink blossoms decorated the altar of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church at Hildreth.

Miss Jane Lea Schwartz, Hildreth, as her cousin's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Karen Osterbuhr, Kearney, and Miss Carolee Loshen, Denver, were frocked in aqua satin and carried rounded bouquets of pink rosebuds and white button chrysanthemums. Miss Susan Crouse, sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl, and Robert Schwartz, the bride's brother, carried the rings. Fredrick Schwartz lighted the candles.

Serving as best man was Robert Powers, Lincoln, and the ushers were Johnny J. Schwartz, brother of the bride, and Dale Schwartz, Hildreth.

The bride appeared in a gown of white, handclipped Chantilly lace over satin. Narrow satin banding edged the rounded neckline of the lace bodice, which was designed with bracelet sleeves, and below the snug cummerbund of satin, the skirt flared to cotillion length. Her illusion veil was held by a crown of tulle petals and pearlized blossoms,

Mr. and Mrs. Crouse will make their home in Lincoln.

Sheridan Pupils Learn Safety

Class outdoors has been added to the curriculum of 4th, 5th, and 6th graders at Sheridan School these days as the youngsters learn safety rules and rehearse traffic hand signals under the direction of Lt. Melvin Dorn, safety and education officer of the Lincoln Police.

The first in a series of bicycle clinics began on Wednesday as these pupils rehearse signals for a turn—although there seems to be a bit of confusion over which is right and left.

Betrothal

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Raymond Harstad of Sioux City, Ia., of the betrothal of her daughter, Carole Ann, to Karl Faller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Faller of Falls City.

A senior at the University of Nebraska, Miss Harstad is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Her fiance attends the Omaha Art Institute.

NU Support Encouraging Gifts, Faculty Stability, Hardin Reports

Increased support for the University of Nebraska is bringing dividends in terms of staff stability and greater returns from non-tax revenue sources, Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin told the institution's faculty at its annual homecoming dinner Wednesday evening.

At brief ceremonies held as a part of the program certificates were presented to 11 members of the academic staff who are beginning their twenty-sixth year of service and new members of the teaching staff were introduced.

Chancellor Hardin told the staff that the University is judged on the basis of faculty performance and that "whatever progress this University is making is your progress."

'All Indebted'

"All components of this institution and of the state," he said, "are indebted to you for the progress in recent years—for the hard work, the patience, and the understanding which have made it possible."

The Chancellor said that returns from the increased financial support the state has given the University in recent years are visible in several areas including "the amounts which are coming from outside sources for new construction and new programs." He listed the new Nebraska Center for Continuing Education and the new Eugene Eppley research institute at the College of Medicine as examples.

"There is reason to believe that outside support will continue to increase," he said, "provided we continue to develop a staff of competence and stability, and provided we continue to come forth with imaginative and sound programs in the fields of research and teaching."

Attention To Youth

He gave special emphasis to the importance of teaching at the freshman level and to the importance of encouraging young college teachers.

"In these days of great demand for ability and competence," he said, "neither the promising young student nor the promising young teacher is casually expendable."

Staff members honored for 25 years of service to the University are:

Dr. A. Lawrence Bennett, professor and assistant chairman of physiology and pharmacology, at the College of Medicine in Omaha.

Miss Anne Mae Bute, associate extension home economist, who has served in Red Willow County since 1935.

Dr. Carl E. Georgi, professor and chairman of bacteriology. He has served as chairman since 1953.

Helen Halbersleben, assistant professor of business teacher education, and supervisor at University High School.

Harry Kuska, assistant extension agent, who has served in Garden county since 1955. He also has served in Sioux and Dawes counties.

C. M. Mead, assistant extension agriculturist, who has served in Hamilton county since 1948. He also has served in Cherry and Perkins counties.

Clyde C. Noyes, extension agriculturist and state leader of programs and reports for Agricultural Extension Service. He has served as county agent in Dundy and Red Willow counties.

Eugene C. Reed, director of Conservation and Survey Division and professor of geology. He has served as director since 1954.

J. R. Watson, associate extension agriculturist, who has served in Cuming county since 1935.

R. E. Weir, assistant extension agriculturist, who has served in Cedar county since 1948. He also served in Nance county.

Dr. Harold E. Wise, associate dean of the Graduate College, deputy University research administrator, and professor of secondary education. He also served as acting dean of the Graduate College during the 1956-57 school year.

Man With Knife Jailed By Police

A 35-year-old Lincoln man was jailed early Wednesday night after he threatened with a knife several patrons and the bartender of the Zephyr Bar, 1020 P.

The fracas began after the man was denied more drinks at the bar. He immediately drew a knife and started insulting others present, witnesses said.

One patron quickly grabbed the arms of the knife-wielder while two other patrons disarmed him. However, the man broke from their grasp and ran into the street.

Police finally cornered the man on P between 11th and 12th.

Dies At Home

Catherine Garcia, 47, of 1947 Vine, died at her home. Dep. Sheriff Jack Spieker, acting coroner, said death apparently was due to natural causes. He said Mrs. Garcia had been suffering from asthma.

Nation's Economy Sound—Anderson

Washington (AP) — The United States was pictured Wednesday by Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson as approaching the end of an economic adjustment of the type usually associated with recessions.

In an important policy speech at the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund, Anderson said:

"The adjustments that our economy has undergone this year provide the base for a long period of sustainable, non-inflationary growth."

The secretary's economic forecast came as some economists professed to see signs of an approaching recession in the spotty business record of recent months.

He's A Conservative

Anderson, a conservative in money matters, is no economist. However, his stock as a business prophet rose early in 1958 when he correctly predicted the end of that year's recession.

Before venturing his latest forecast, Anderson checked signals at a top level White House meeting. He discussed his speech at length lsst week with President Eisenhower, Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, and Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers.

Newsweek magazine said in its current issue that during that meeting Eisenhower received a confidential report from the Commerce Department indicating the gross national product may fall in the third quarter to a level between $500 billion and $502 billion. The second quarter figure was $505 billion.

Key Indicator

The gross national product —representing the output of the nation's factories, mills and mines—is regarded as a key indicator of economic health.

According to Newsweek, the White House conferees were disturbed by other signs of economic weakness, including a decrease in consumer plans to buy such major items as automobiles, lack of prospects for a significant pickup in steel, and a drop in profits.

In his speech to the Monetary Fund, Anderson said, "it is my strong view that the outlook for economic activity in this country is favorable, both for the near future and for many years ahead."

Morrison Praises Hastings Activity

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings—Frank B. Morrison, Democratic candidate for Governor, carried his campaign to Hastings Wednesday.

Attending the Castor Bean Field Day here Morrison complimented the city for promoting new crops in Nebraska.

Morrison said this project points not only to a new cash crop for Nebraska, but may mean millions in additional revenue through processing plants.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

"Good morning, sir," she said. "God bless the house," I said. "As me blessed grandmother O'Dooleyplane often remarked after the Fifth of Guinness."

Since only 10 per cent of the Nation flies, 1,674,000 men, women and tots in the U.S. would be completely lost on an airplane. Let us correct that as a public service.

The modern airplane flies at 35,000 feet.

The outside air temperature is minus 60 degrees.

We are on a Boeing 707 jet.

We have a tailwind of 70 miles per hour.

The plane is owned by TWA. TWA is owned mostly by Mr. Howard Hughes. The weather is sunny.

The captain's name is Lundin. He is assisted by a copilot, a second officer and an engineer. Before flight, he got on the loudspeaker and introduced "the charming cabin attendants."

"Miss Dasher, Miss Prancer, Miss Vixen and Miss Comet." (Miss Donner and Miss Blitzen are on the reserve list.)

The flying time from San Francisco to New York is 5 hours.

"Fasten seat belts. If there is anything we can do to make your flight more comfortable, do not hesitate to call upon us."

☆ ☆ ☆

This is the modern airline. What about the modern passenger?

The modern passenger has not progressed much beyond the DC-3.

You can install jet engines. Sweep back the wings. Fly your planes by radar and put in the most modern plumbing. The passenger lags behind.

Recently the airlines (and Government) decided on a new rule for passengers: "In Flight cocktails shall be limited to two."

So that the passengers should not cheat, it is a rule now that you must hand over any spirits you are carrying to the stewardess. And when I got on the plane, I brought an itsy bitsy teeny weeny polka dot mickey—(which I carry in case of fainting spells).

Like a doll, I handed it over to Miss Dasher.

"What is this for, sir?" she asked. "For you, ma'am. If you wish a belt," I said generously. "I turn this over to you since it is the Government's wish. You are to ladle it out to me according to the dictates of your conscience."

"It will not be necessary," she said. "Complimentary cocktails are served enroute. It is part of TWA's Ambassador service."

"That is not the point. The point is that the U.S. has appointed you guardian of my intake. This is an historic moment. And now, if you will pour a slug, we shall judge your point-of-no-return between generosity and caution."

"Perhaps I should bring you a glass of ice water," she said.

"Bring the water," I said. "But when the pouring is done, it is up to you to say 'when.'"

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, as you can imagine, such forthright honesty disarmed this charming girl.

I only mention it to show what we jet-propelled passengers are up against these days aboard the rockets.

It is not enough that they wine us and dine us. And send us from 150 miles an hour to near the sound barrier.

They put us on the honor system, too. Something's got to give, God bless the house.

Scholarships Awarded To 6 NWU Students

Six Nebraska Wesleyan University students have been granted scholarship assistance for the 1960-61 school year by the board of education of the Methodist Church.

The National Methodist Scholarships cover tuition and fees up to $500. About 500 such awards are given each year.

Wesleyan recipients this year include Donna Lee Anderson of Blair, Jane Kerns of Humboldt, William Keith McCamley of York, Joyce Lavonne Moormeier of Cortland, Phyllis Joy Piper of Wray, Colo., and Janet Dee Richey of Cozad.

Lawyers, Accountants Asked To Sponsor An Income Tax Institute

A committee of the Nebraska State Bar Association has recommended that Nebraska lawyers and accountants join in sponsoring an annual income tax institute.

In a report prepared for the State Bar Convention in Omaha Oct. 6-7, a committee headed by Harry B. Cohen of Omaha said that if at all possible, the first such institute be held in May of 1961.

The report recommended that the institute be under the auspices either of Creighton University of the University of Nebraska.

Name Change

Pine Bluff, Ark. (AP)— Diane Adel Meyer, 13, asked to have her middle name changed to Dixie. Her mother said her daughter's initials "may be subject to ridicule and hazing by her friends." Petitioned granted, said Judge Laren Lawrence Dawson.

'Rural Church Of Year' Honor Goes To Fairview Methodist Congregation

Fairview Methodist Church near Central City was revealed as Methodist "Rural Church of the Year" Wednesday morning in a special Nebraska Wesleyan University chapel service.

Several lay persons from the 183-member congregation, headed by their pastor, the Rev. Lanny Tuttle, were on hand to receive the award from Wesleyan President Vance D. Rogers and the Rev. LaRoy E. Seaver of Big Springs, chairman of the Town and Country Commission of the Nebraska Methodist Conference.

On hand to receive the honor for Fairview Methodist church were, left to right: the Rev. Lanny Tuttle, church pastor; George Ferris, lay leader; Frank Jefferson, chairman of the official board; Dr. Vance Rogers, who made the presentation; and the Rev. LaRoy E. Seaver of Big Springs, chairman of the Methodist town and country commission. (Star Photo)

The ceremony was a feature of the annual Methodist Pastor's School for which First Church, Lincoln, and Nebraska Wesleyan are cohosts this week. One of the school's lecturers, Dr. Kermit Long of Phoenix, Ariz., was chapel speaker.

The award-winning open-country church, organized in 1872, worships in a $75,000 building, the cost of which was paid in full at the time of its completion in 1951. The former church building, now used as a church and community recreation center, was erected at a cost of $1,800 in 1884 at another location in the area. Members successfully coped with difficult winter conditions to move it to the present site in 1893.

Recently acquired and located on the church property has been a mobile home for the pastor. For the past 20 years, the Fairview congregation had shared ministers with the Central City Methodist Church, but with the Rev. Mr. Tuttle's assignment last June now has its own pastor.

'Lay Leadership' Credited

The full program carried on by the rural church, with attention to details particularly noted, has been attributed primarily to "tremendous lay leadership." In addition to regular on-going activities and significant support of local and wider church work, special projects have included sponsorship of several foreign exchange students and two families of displaced persons, an enlarged Lord's Acre program, and a Christmas "Birthday Party for Jesus."

Fairview Church is the second to receive the "Rural Church of the Year" award, a joint project of Nebraska Wesleyan and the Methodist Conference's Town and Country Commission. Initial winner last year was the Hull Community Church near Mitchell.

Burglars Rob Dave Martin's Hastings Firm

. . . Safe Missing

Kearney (AP) — Dave Martin of Kearney learned Wednesday that while he was campaigning for Congress in Grand Island Tuesday, burglars had made off with an 800 pound safe and its contents from his Hastings lumber yard.

Martin owns lumber yards at Ashby, Gibbon, Hastings and Kearney. He is currently Republican nominee for Congress in the Fourth District, now represented by Donald F. McGinley, Ogallala, Democrat.

Loss Insured

Martin said early Wednesday Byron H. Phelps, manager of the Hastings yard, telephoned him that burglars had forced a locked rear gate, entered the office building through a window and apparently moved the heavy safe about 150 feet and loaded it into a vehicle.

The safe contained cash receipts and sales slips for two days plus ledgers. The safe and the cash receipts were insured.

An examination Wednesday showed there was $273.80 in cash and checks in the safe.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key number left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Ted's Retired; Jack's Rehired

. . . JENSEN RETURNS TO GAME

Boston (AP) — The Red Sox lost a great hitter and regained a good one Wednesday when Jackie Jensen agreed to return to baseball a few minutes before Ted Williams bade adieu to Boston fans.

Jensen, sitting with pleased Sox owner Tom Yawkey and Dirk O'Connell, the club vice president, told writers:

"As you know, when I announced my retirement last year I said I had personal problems. I thought a year away might solve them.

"The problems are still there. I think I was a bit immature in my thinking. That's why I feel like returning to baseball, a game I like and enjoy."

Jensen explained after the news conference:

"I realize now that the problems would have existed no matter what business I happened to be in and I shouldn't have blamed baseball.

Doesn't Like Travel

"I still dislike the traveling that will keep me away from my family but other things will compensate for that."

Jensen can't be signed officially until sometime after Oct. 31. The first date his name can be reinstated from baseball's voluntarily retired list.

All the terms have been agreed to by Jensen and Yawkey.

He came here under an original agreement to assist another retired Red Sox player, Sammy White, open a bowling alley.

His trip had been scheduled for last summer but his west coast commitments prevented a trip at that time, he said.

Another Mission

He also disclosed that he came here with another mission, to intercede with American League President Joe Cronin for an Oakland group which wants an American League franchise "if Los Angeles gets one."

"That," he added, "is another good reason for my return to the game."

Jensen has an interest in an Oakland restaurant and also is concerned in a real estate development at Lake Tahoe, Nev.

Jensen said he's in good condition, that he weighs 190 about 3 pounds under his playing weight a year ago.

He attributed that partly to working this summer as an apprentice carpenter on his project.

10-Year Vet

Jensen is a 10-year American League veteran. In that decade he played 1,301 games, drove in 863 runs, walloped 186 homers and compiled a .281 batting average.

He led the league in RBIs in 1955, 1958 and 1959. He also led in stolen bases in 1954 with 22.

Jensen is the only athlete ever to play in a World Series, with the Yankees, and in the Rose Bowl with the California football team, and on the major league All Star team.

Master Dramatist Bows Out Early

. . . LAST HOMER 420-FOOTER

Boston (UPI) — Ted Williams, the master dramatist, hit his 521st home run in his final Fenway Park time at bat Wednesday and announced minutes later he had played his last game.

The 42-year-old Williams had planned to play in Boston's last 3 games of the season at New York this weekend. But he announced to stunned writers after the Red Sox had beaten the Baltimore Orioles, 5-4, that he was calling it quits immediately.

His retirement after the end of the season was announced last Sunday.

Williams' last home run was 420-foot clout off right-hander Jack Fisher with the bases empty in the 8th inning. The drive carried over the Red Sox bullpen in center field.

A crowd of 10,454 had given Ted a standing ovation as the big left fielder strode to the plate for his final appearance, swinging two bats. Williams lashed at a one-one pitch and the ball was gone.

29th of Year

The drive was Williams' 29th home run of the season. It left him 13 short of Jimmy Foxx's second-ranked home run total of 534 behind Babe Ruth's 714. He finished with a .345 lifetime average.

Williams gave no explanation for his retiring 4 days early. He left the Red Sox clubhouse shortly after his surprise news.

The game was delayed several minutes following the home run as the spectators stood and chanted, "We want Ted."

But Williams, who in his longstanding fashion did not tip his cap after the home run, failed to make a last appearance.

Relief Record

Mike Fornieles set an American League record for relief appearances by appearing in his 70th game of the season.

The Cuban Righthander retired 6 straight men over the last two innings and ran his record to 10-5 when the Red Sox scored twice in the 9th to beat Fisher.

Fornieles broke Ellis Kinder's 1953 mark of 69 relief stints. Jim Konstanty's 74 appearances for the Philadelphia Phillies is the major league record.

Error Decides

Billy Klaus' throwing error let in the winning run. Third baseman Brooks Robinson threw out one runner on Willie Tasby's bases-loaded grounder in the last of the 9th, the tying run scoring.

Nicklaus Peps America To Huge World Amateur Lead

Ardmore, Pa. (AP) — Powerhitting Jack Nicklaus ripped the feared Merion East course apart for a record 66 Wednesday and sent the United States into a huge lead in the first round of the second World Amateur team golf championships.

The 66 by the husky, 20-year-old Ohio State junior clipped one stroke off Merion's amateur record set in 1924 by Ducky Corkran.

It followed a pair of one-over-par 71s by Bob Gardner of New York and Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia and gave the U.S. team a first round total of 208.

No other team among the 32 entered in this world-wide competition was even close.

Beman Has 71

National Amateur champion Deane Beman of Silver Spring, Md., a late starter, also fired a 71, but the U.S. total already had been posted.

In the world team competition for the Eisenhower Trophy only the best 3 scores of each team each day are counted toward the aggregate.

This goes on for 4 days to reach the final result. There is no official individual competition.

Bob Charles, a big lefthander from New Zealand, fired the day's second-best round, an even par 70, and sent his team into a second place tie with Mexico at 217.

British 4th

The Great Britain-Ireland team was 4th with 218. Ireland's Joe Carr, current British Amateur champion, didn't even figure in the team scoring with a round of 78.

Then came Australia, the defending champion, with 218 and South Africa with 220.

Although only the team scoring is officially recognized in this tournament, Nicklaus' round was the sensation of a damp opening day on the 6,694-yard, par 36-34—70 Merion course.

After a shaky start, he began holing putts of more than 20 feet and he was putting for the course record of 64, set by pro Lee Mackey in the 1950 National Open, when he missed a long one on the 18th green.

—YANKS WIN 12TH IN ROW—

Mantle Slams 2; Gets Homer Lead

Washington (AP) — Mickey Mantle slammed two homers to edge ahead in the American League race Wednesday night and enable New York to equal its own league record on the way to a 6-3 victory over Washington.

Mantle's two-run blast into the left center seats in the first inning was his 39th of the season and his 5th-inning solo blow into the same area was No. 40. That put him one up on teammate Roger Maris.

Clete Boyer had socked a two-run homer earlier in the 5th, so Mantle's was the 190th of the year for New York. The Yanks set a league mark with the same number in 1956.

They have 3 games against Boston in New York this weekend to set a new American record. The major record is 221, held jointly by the New York Giants and Cincinnati.

New York suffered in winning, however, for a foul tip off Zorro Versalles' bat on the second pitch of the game dislocated the ring finger on catcher Elston Howard's right hand.

The finger was placed in a splint and will be X-rayed. If there is no break, he should be ready for the series beginning in Pittsburgh next Wednesday.

LOVELY COMBINATIONS

Cyclones Offering Powerful Offense

. . . HUSKER OBJECTIVE: 'STOP IT'

By Don Bryant

While it's difficult to compare Nebraska and Iowa State's 1960 performances to date, there is ample evidence that the Cyclones have a formidable offense.

Still in the limbo stage is the Cornhusker offense which has had to operate against the likes of Texas and Minnesota. Iowa State, which has been able to free-wheel against Drake and Detroit, admittedly hasn't traveled a rocky road.

But the Cyclones have managed two sensational performances, even against weak opposition. They have scored 90 points in the two games and have netted 677 yards rushing and 143 yards passing for an 820 total.

These impressive figures have not been overlooked the Cornhuskers in their preparations for Saturday's initial Big 8 outing at Memorial Stadium.

"Our first and most difficult objective is to stop their offense," Coach Bill Jennings said Wednesday.

"If you can average 45 points a game, even against weiker teams, you have a great offense. We'll have to stop them and also do more scoring ourselves. I don't think 14 points will be enough."

Jennings was referring to the fact that his Huskers have scored just 14 points in their last 4 games.

How about those Cyclones? Well, the spark is Dave Hoppmann, sophomore tailback, who has averaged 8.2 per carry and completed 8 of 15 passes for 120 yards and 3 touchdowns.

Pony Backfield

But Coach Clay Stapleton has an excellent pony backfield that includes fullback Tom Watkins, blocking back Cliff Rick, and wingback Mickey Fitzgerald.

Watkins, 6-0, 178-pound senior, has gained 99 yards on 18 tries for a 5.5 average this fall, yielding the spotlight to Hoppmann. Last season he was an All Big 8 choice.

Fitzgerald, 5-10, 162-pound senior, has 83 yards in 11 carries for a 7.5 average.

Among the other Cyclone backs who have helped pile up yards are Dave Clayberg, 180-pound soph, who is averaging 3.4; J. W. Burden, 159-pound junior, who is averaging 10.5; Terry Chandler, 170-pound sophomore, who is averaging 8.7; and John Cooper, 170-pound junior, who is averaging 7.5.

Webb Top Catcher

Top target for Hoppmann's passes has been Don Webb, 169-pound, 5-10 senior end, who has snared 4 pitches for 83 yards and two TDs. Six other Cyclones have been on the receiving end of Hoppmann passes.

Light Drill

The top two Cornhusker teams passed up contact work Wednesday, while the No. 3 unit scrimmaged the Freshmen. This is the lightest schedule for the starters and alternates since fall camp opened, but the injuries have forced it.

Tackle Ron McDole is still a doubtful starter Saturday, and Dwain Carlson, a soph, is expected to open at right tackle. He played 3 minutes at guard against Texas, and about the same against Minnesota.

Al Fischer, soph tackle who has spelled McDole, is slated to miss the Iowa State game with a knee injury. Other "burnees"—Bill Comstock, Don Fricke, George Haney and Don Purcell—will be on hand.

Pass Defense

Jennings Wednesday termed the Husker pass defense "average—not great, but not lousy"—as the Scarlets drilled against Iowa State passes.

"We work on it all the time, and we haven't been too far off," Bill said. "We've made some mistakes, of course, but some of the passes have been pretty well thrown, too."

Tickets Available

A. J. Lewandowski, Husker ticket boss, said Wednesday that there are some 4,000 tickets for the Iowa State game still left and that there would be plenty on sale Saturday before the game.

"We've got plenty of tickets left in the Stadium, plus bleachers," Lew announced in an effort to spike a rumor that the game was a sell-out.

Thornton Is Target For I-State

By Ron Speer

Des Moines, (AP) — Iowa State's defense will be keyed to stop Nebraska's fullback Thunder Thornton when the two teams meet at Lincoln Saturday.

"We feel Nebraska is 50 per cent improved over its team of a year ago," Cyclone assistant coach Lou McCullough told the Des Moines Football Writers Wednesday.

"And, he added, "we think that Thornton is responsible for half of Nebraska's improvement. He likes to hit—both offensively and defensively."

Thornton, a sophomore, is the leading Nebraska groundgainer with a 6-yard average in 19 carries.

"Nebraska will outweigh us," McCullough said, "and I believe they are about as fast as we are.

"This is a must game for them — but of course it also is a must game for Iowa State."

McCullough said Iowa State's defenses need polishing.

Beatrice Wins Dual

Hebron — Beatrice's Wally Weeks and John Weinman ran two miles to a dead heat in 10:52 to lead their team to a 10-29 win over Hebron in a cross-country meet.

Other finishers: 3, Ensz (B); 4, Plehal (B); 5, Helget (H); 6, Conrad (B); 7, Killinger (H); 8, Burd (H).

Van Berg Earns Over $1 Million At Hazel Park

By Associated Press

The 6th race at Hazel Park Tuesday will go down in the records as just another claiming race, but the result was of great importance to Michigan's racing fans and Nebraska's leading horse owner, M. H. Van Berg.

For Van Berg, whose color bearer Scenic won, the race was a notable milestone in American racing. The purse put the earnings of Van Berg's horses at Hazel Park track over the million dollar mark, and made the Nebraskan the first horse owner to achieve such an honor.

Tuesday's arrival of the familiar gold and purple silks of the Nebraskan in the winner circle marked his 44th winner in the 47th day of the current 64-day meet.

To add luster to the performance the million dollar winnings were won over the 12 years that Hazel Park has been in operation or approximately 700 racing days.

-SCOTCH RUMORS HE'S TICKETED FOR NEW YORK-

Chisox Rehire Lopez For 1961

Chicago (AP) — Al Lopez, claiming "we still should have won the pennant," Wednesday was signed to manage the dethroned American League champion Chicago White Sox again in 1961.

Lopez signed a one-year contract for approximately the same salary he received this year, $50,000. This is the 5th White Sox pact for the 52-year-old Lopez, who has been retained on a year-to-year basis.

The signing was announced by Sox president Bill Veeck at Comiskey Park where this weekend the Sox will try to sustain Lopez' record of never finishing lower than second place in 10 American League seasons.

In signing Lopez for 1961, Veeck scotched rumors the senor was headed for the New York Yankees as a successsor to the 70-year-old Casey Stengel, rumored to retire at the end of this season.

Lopez said he would retain his coaching staff of Don Gutteridge, Tony Cuccinello, Ray Berres and Johnny Cooney.

Veeck said he was satisfied that Lopez did as well as could be expected with the White Sox this season. "Certain players failed to produce, but Lopez could not be blamed for that," said Veeck.

Veeck also commented jocularly that "Mrs. Al Lopez thus will remain the 'first lady of baseball' in Chicago, contrary to published New York reports.

Lopez, a native of Tampa, Fla., asserted the White Sox were better than they showed this season. "We still should have won the pennant," Lopez declared.

"Things didn't break for us, that's all. This year we lost the one-run games we won last year.

"We had only one really good month—July. That was the month Roy Sievers was hot and our pitching was up to standard."

Lopez said efforts would be made to bolster the Sox pitching and catching departments.

Renege On Groat Trade Brown's Greatest Move

Pittsburgh (AP) — Six player trades by Pittsburgh General Manager Joe L. Brown, bringing such key players as Don Hoak, Smoky Burgess, Harvey Haddix, Hal Smith, Billy Virdon, Gino Cimoli, Dick Schofield and Vinegar Bend Mizell are largely responsible for the Pirates 1960 success story.

However, a trade on which he reneged at the last minute, Brown readily admitted, had as much to do with the Pirates' winning the National League pennant as those he consummated.

The central figure in the trade was Dick Groat, the captain and shortstop of the Pirates who is generally accepted as one of the leading candidates for Player of the Year honors.

It was during the 1959 major league winter meetings in Miami. Brown, seeking outfield strength, had learned that Roger Maris of the Kansas City Athletics was available.

Brown offered a package deal for Maris with Groat the central figure. The A's indicated agreement but asked Brown and Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh to step out of the room.

"Danny and I went out into the hallway and I noticed he wasn't looking so good," Brown recalled. "I asked him what was wrong.

"I'm not so sure I want to trade Groat,' Danny said. 'He's the guy who's been holding us together.'

"I had been thinking the same thing so I said 'well, then, we won't make the deal.' I called the A's and said the deal was off."

Brown regards his 1958 trade that brought Hoak, Haddix and Burgess from Cincinnati for Frank Thomas and 3 lesser lights as the most fruitful he's ever made.

KEEPING SCORE

Bounce Of The Ball

Football is an odd game. The expression, "That's the way the ball bounces," was never more true than in the Chester-Edgar game last week.

The final score was a 6-6 tie. Both touchdowns came on blocked punts.

And Cook coach Dick Kutlas, reporting on his team's 32-21 loss to Peru Prep, says Cook had a 14-0 edge in first downs, 105-69 margin in rushing and 98-0 in passing.

Kutlas didn't explain how Peru Prep scored its 32 points.

Everything Happened

And, according to a story by North Platte Telegraph-Bulletin sports ed Mike Fisher, Dick Boness experienced just about everything in his second game as a coach, against Callaway.

It was a Tuesday game, and Mullen also had a game Friday against Thedford. But two players were declared ineligible as a starter. Then it rained, making the game doubtful for a while.

Next came the failure of officials to show for the contest. The school superintendent and an assistant coach from Thedford, plus Arnold coach Glen Troyer, were pressed into service as refs.

And the fact that the teams were playing 11-man football on an 8-man football field, added to the difficulties.

The end zones, therefore, were added to the regulation 80-yard playing area, meaning that the goal posts were right on the line. Whenever a team got inside the 10, the ball was moved back 10 yards and the regulation goal line could be used, eliminating danger of a player butting a post.

The band director at Mullen also has his troubles. Of his 56-member band, 16 leave to join the football squad when the game is in progress.

Despite the difficulties, Mullen has run up 3 straight wins in its sojourn into 11-man ball. The Broncs play 4 of the 8-man variety, plus one more with 11.

Scottsbluff Hit Again

Scottsbluff, having unusual difficulties on the playing field with a winless record in 3 starts, is still having its normal difficulties with scheduling.

The far-out Bearcats have been informed that Grand Island is not renewing its contract with Scottsbluff next year, thus eliminating another good Nebraska opponent from the slate.

Grand Island cited the same reasons Lincoln High gave a couple years ago when the Links dropped Scottsbluff—travel distance, expense and length of time players have to be out of school.

Scottsbluff's problem is simple—Eastern teams don't have to travel to get good games. Scottsbluff does.

Scottsbluff's 1961 schedule now has dates with its 4 West Big 10 rivals plus Sidney and probably 3 out-state games. The contract with Omaha South has not yet been renewed, but the series isn't definitely off yet, either.

I, for one, hope South renews the pact with Scottsbluff. Such an East-West series could only be good for both schools, and all those who play the teams involved.

Duke End Named Lineman Of Week

By Associated Press

Claude (Tee) Moorman, Duke end, set an Atlantic Coast Conference record by catching 11 forward passes against South Carolina last week.

For this accomplishment the 212-pound senior from Miami was named the lineman of the Week Wednesday in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Moorman, a pre-med student and president of the Duke senior class, didn't play the last 6 games of 1959 because of a knee injury.

But he was in great form against South Carolina. He scored one touchdown and gained 122 yards with his 11 catches.

The calibre of end play was high everywhere and the boys on the end of the line drew most of the nominations.

J Harris of Purdue contributed mightily to the Boilermakers holding UCLA to a tie. The 174-pound sophomore from Williamsport, Pa., made numerous tackles in addition to two spectacular pass catches, one good for a TD.

Gerald Burch of Georgia Tech helped preserve a Tech victory by intercepting a pass that halted Rice's last drive.

Scott Maentz of Michigan helped stop Oregon with numerous tackles. Jim Davidson of Idaho made 6 tackles and recovered two enemy fumbles against Washington.

A couple of guards—Mark Manders of Iowa and Nick DePola of Notre Dame—drew praise.

The week's nominations included:

Ends—Joe Harris, Purdue; Gerald Burch, Georgia Tech; Scott Maentz, Michigan; Claude Moorman, Duke; Arnold Davis, Baylor; Jim Davidson, Idaho; Fred Mautino, Syracuse.

Tackles—Larry Eisenhower, Boston College; Al Vanderbush, Army.

Guards—Mark Manders, Iowa; Nick DePola, Notre Dame.

Centers—Bill Laughlin, Texas; Arnie Matrin, Texas, Christian; Cody Zinkley, Vanderbilt; Larry Onesti, Oklahoma.

SF Doomed To NL 2nd Half, 6-3

San Francisco (AP)—The Chicago Cubs doomed San Francisco to the second division Wednesday, handing the Giants a 6-3 defeat on Bob Anderson's 9-hitter.

The loss before the smallest crowd of the first Candlestick Park season, 5,513, put the Giants 4 games behind 4th place Los Angeles with only 3 games to play.

Willie Mays lost ground in his fight for his second National league batting title. He went hitless in 4 times at bat and dropped a point to .321.

Deer Take Even

Fourteen more archers felled deer during the past week, bringing the total taken during the 1½ weeks of bow season to 30, the Nebraska Game Commission reported Wednesday.

"We're running about equal to last year so far," reported Lloyd P. Vance, game chief of the commission. "Our number of archers in the field is about 200 under that of 1959, but the number of deer killed is very close."

Norton Denies 49ers Tie Before Olympics

Redwood City, Calif. (AP)—U.S. Olympic sprinter Ray Norton emphatically denied Wednesday that he had jumped the gun by considering a professional football contract before the 1960 Rome games.

Norton, contacted after a San Francisco 49ers football workout, said all he knew before the Olympics was that he had been drafted in 1959 while a San Jose State College student.

"I don't even know whether the 49ers wanted me," the 22-year-old athletic declared.

The issue of Norton's amateur-pro status came up when a New York columnist reported that Norton, before going to Rome, was required to sign an affidavit that he had not agreed either orally or in writing to play for the 49ers.

Joe Williams, of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, wrote the information about the affidavit and the fact the 49ers ballyhooed Norton in promotional material "may shed light on Ray Norton's wretched performance in the recent Olympics . . ."

Norton finished last in both the 100 and 200 meters and then committed a foul that disqualified the U.S. 400 meter relay team.

"Certainly I signed the affidavit," Norton said. "I had nothing to worry about. There was nothing to it."

His Olympic performance was "just one of those mishaps." Norton added, "I wasn't ready at that particular time."

PERKINS WINS WED. TV FINAL

Chicago (AP) — Eddie Perkins of Chicago brought to a close the 9-year Wednesday night televised fight series by winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Gene Gresham of Detroit.

In Chicago Stadium—which had crowds of 20,000 or more in the heyday of boxing — a turnout of 760 collected to watch the end; contributing to a net gate of $841.

A Potent Wallop Means Quick Knockout

YORK, Nebr.—Mr. C. W. Hickmon, 219 W. 16th St., says: "There isn't anything that will compare with Baker's Hair Tonic for dandruff and itchy scalp. A very bad case of dandruff and itchy scalp had plagued me for years. Baker's knocked it out in short order, and I am never bothered now." It's so easy and pleasant to use. Not messy or greasy like most so-called dandruff remedies. Use it any time, anywhere. No Federal excise tax on Baker's Hair Tonic, because it's a specific for dandruff. Baker's has such a potent wallop, it is guaranteed to quickly knock out dandruff and itchy scalp, or money back. Adv.

COLONELS TAKE SERIES OPENER

Toronto (AP)—Mack Jones, 21-year-old center-fielder, drove in all the runs—3 with an inside-the-park homer—to lead the Louisville Colonels to a 41 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night in the opener of the best-of-7 Little World Series.

Righthander Don Nottebart turned in a sparkling pitching performance for the Colonels, who won the American Association playoffs after finishing second to the pennant-winning Denver Bears.

Burdette, Crandall Crush Phils, 9-3

Philadelphia (AP) — Pticher Lew Burdette tossed a 6-hitter and catcher Del Crandall batted in 3 runs Wednesday night as the Milwaukee Braves bombarded Philadelphis 9-3. The Phillies used 5 pitchers.

Crandall hit a double and scored on Eddie Mathews' 39th home run as the Braves jumped on starter and loser Jim Owens in the opening inning. Hank Aaron tripled and scored on a single by Joe Adcock, also in the first.

Milwaukee picked up another run in the second on a single by Chuck Cottier, an error and one of Crandall's two singles.

The Braves added 5 more in the 6th on triples by Adcock and Aaron, two wild pitches by Chris Short, a sacrifice and singles by Felix Mantilla and Crandall.

Larker Gets Winning Hit Over Cards

Los Angeles (AP)—Norm Larker got one hit, drove in the deciding run and remained a fraction of a point behind Dick Groat in the National League batting race Wednesday night as Los Angeles defeated St. Louis, 4-2.

Larker hit a double and scored his first time up, later brought in the 3rd Dodger run with a sacrifice fly and finished the game hitting .32476.

The victory was the second straight for the Dodgers over St. Louis and it dropped the Cards a game and one half back of second place Milwaukee.

Lefthanded Johnny Podres went 7 innings for the Dodgers and registered his 14th victory in 26 decisions.

Syracuse Picked To Top KU 21-7

. . . HUSKERS 14-13 OVER I.S.

By Will Grimsley

New York (AP) — The "Upset Special" is highballing it toward Lawrence, Kan., this week, but look out for those 225-pound behemoths blocking the rails.

Kansas is said to be 10 times improved over the Jayhawker team which bowed to Syracuse 35-21 last year. Syrbrawn and speed that caracuse has back most of the ried it to the national championship.

We think the Syracuse line is too tough for the likes of Bert Coan and Curtis McClinton and should rack up a 21-7 victory.

Last week we stabbed 35 of 45 winners for .777. The second go-around:

Notre Dame 27 Purdue 21: Vengeance swells in the proud breasts of the Fighting Irish.

Northwestern 13 Iowa 7: even without Dick Thornton, the Wildcats can do it.

Washington 20 Navy 14: the Midshipmen's Joe Bellino is a tough cookie, but the cookie crumbles under husky gang tackling.

Louisiana State 19 Baylor 16: this is rated a pick 'em game. Okay, we pick LSU under its own favorable lights.

Arkansas 14 Texas Christian 12: TCU's advantage of playing at home not enough to offset improving Razorbacks.

Army 23 California 14: Air arm built around Dick Eckert and Tom Blanda add to Golden Bears' woes.

Mississippi 34 Memphis State: If Ole Miss is tops, as the polls say, who is Memphis State to question it?

Penn 20 Dartmouth 8: New coach, new system and new star Porter Shreve keep Quakers moving.

Clemson 22 Virginia Tech 8: grit and grits are a potent combination.

Ohio State 20 Southern California 7: The Buckeye's are fancier with passes this year, but still tough.

Denies Report

Los Angeles (AP) — "No comment" was the reply Wednesday by Arthur (Red) Patterson of the Los Angeles Dodgers to a report that he may return to New York as an executive with the Yankees.

Patterson, Dodger director of publicity, held a similar position several years ago with the Yankees.

Yankees Bank On Arroyo In Series

Washington (AP) — Wilcy Moore, Johnny Murphy, Joe Page, Ryne Duren, and now Luis Arroyo.

The round senor from Penuelas, Puerto Rico, has been the real "saver" of the New York Yankee pitching staff. It was fitting that he closed out the clincher with one pitch last Sunday in Boston.

A year ago Arroyo was exercising his left arm for the Havana Sugar Kings of the International League against Minneapolis in the Junior World Series.

This time he'll be pitching for the big money at Forbes Field and Yankee Stadium.

Although manager Casey Stengel's pitching staff straightened out in the final weeks of the season, the Yankee skipper counts heavily upon Arroyo has his relief stopper against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Duren Shines

Duren's fine job Tuesday night in Washington when he struck out the first 5 men he faced in a 4-inning chore, assured Stengel of a solid right-hander in the bullpen to help Arroyo.

Arroyo will not be any surprise to the Pirates. He may have perfected his screwball since he left town, but Pittsburgh knew all about him when the Pirates owned him in 1956 and 1957.

In fact it was manager Danny Murtaugh who sent him back to the minors at Columbus just before the Pirates left Florida in the spring of 1958.

Luis had not been effective for either Murtaugh or his predecessor, Bobby Bragan, in 1957 when he had a 3-11 record for the Pirates.

Old Story

The story of how Arroyo came to the Yanks has been told many times. Bill Skiff, eastern farm director, went over to Jersey City to Scout Bill Short and Bill Stafford of the Richmond farm club.

Short was recalled and later Stafford was brought up but Skiff also had this advice for the front office:

"That fellow Arroyo with Jersey City has good stuff. He could help us as a relief man."

NU's Thunder, Hoppy Get All-America Tag

By Associated Press

Until some team stops him, Iowa State University's Hoppy Hoppman is alive candidate for All America football recognition.

Hoppman — the first name is David — is a 175-pound sophomore halfback from Madison, Wis. The District 5 All American board cited him for his performance in Iowa State's 44-21 victory over Detroit last week.

Hoppmann ran for 3 touchdowns against Detroit, passed for one, gained a net 244 yards rushing and 96 through the air. Just how good a job he is doing filling the tailback shoes of the graduated Dwight Nichols could be proved in the Cyclones' Big 8 game with Nebraska in Lincoln Saturday.

While the board, composed of John Cronley, Daily Oklahoman; Leighton Housh, Des Moines Register and Tribune; Bob Busby, Kansas City Star, and Wally Provost, Omaha World-Herald, were highest in praise of Hoppmann, they also cited:

Kansas' guards Elvin Basham and Benny Boydston, 185 and 180 pounds respectively, who were great in the Jayhawks' 41-0 victory over Kansas State.

Bert Coan, 200-pound sophomore halfback of Kansas, who scored two touchdowns and was a constant threat in the Jayhawks' easy victory.

Mel West, 190-pound senior halfback, who picked up 104 yards' rushing in Missouri's 28-7 victory over Oklahoma State.

Danny LaRose, end, and Ed Blaine, tackle, Missouri.

William (Thunder) Thornton, Nebraska sophomore fullback, who raced 57 yards for a touchdown in Nebraska's 14-26 loss to Minnesota.

Dan Celoni, Iowa State guard.

Cronley had high praise for Mack Stock, fullback, and quarterback Dick Thornton, both of Northwestern, in the Big 10 team's 19-3 victory over Oklahoma. Stock rushed for 108 yards and two touchdowns.

Turkey Wins

Istanbul (AP) — Turkey's Besiktas team defeated Rapid of Vienna 1-0 in the first round of the European Soccer Cup tournament.

N.C. State Mentor Is UPI's Choice

Raleigh, N. C., (UPI) — Earle Edwards of North Carolina State, whose hard-luck team last year lost 9 straight games—most of them in the last minutes by such scores as 14-17, 15-17, 14-19, 7-12, 28-33—is the United Press International Coach of the Week.

After enough heartbreakers for a lifetime of coaching, Edwards' Wolfpack has turned two would-be heartbreakers into victory on sheer determination, desire and, in Edwards' words, "A lot of luck."

State downed Virginia Tech, 29-14, with two last period touchdowns, and last Saturday upset North Carolina, 3-0, on a 3rd period field goal, some goal line heroism and luck.

Luck, like the ball squirting from the hands of the Tar Heel quarterback crossing the goal, a Tar Heel touchdown pass nullified by an offside, and two goal line pass interceptions including a one-handed snag by Roman Gabriel in the last 96 seconds of play, was with Edwards this time.

This is Edwards' 25th anniversary in college coaching. He was end coach at Penn State from 1936-1948, served under Biggie Munn at Michigan State for 5 years and came to N.C. State in 1954.

'61 CHEVY TRUCKS
WITH WORK-PROVED INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!

Torsion spring heavyweight—with a ride that means easier going for the driver and the load, less tire abuse, and longer life for the truck itself.

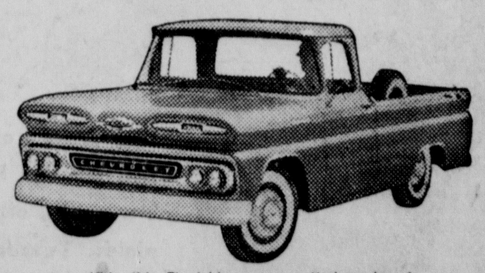
WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more...the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models in the '61 fleet—lower priced, long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive trucks—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on actual owner reports) that Chevrolet's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!

With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options, the works. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around your Chevrolet dealer's block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!



Whip this Fleetside over a rutted road and find out what torsion springs are all about!

Dixie Governors Give Nixon Varying Chances In 11 States

Hot Springs, Ark. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has varying chances of carrying 11 of 15 Southern and border states in the November election, a survey of governors indicated.

As the political situation now is gauged by state executives it might be possible for the Republican presidential nominee to top President Eisenhower's 1956 inroads into this normally-Democratic territory.

Democratic governors don't believe this will happen—but they admit it could.

Eisenhower racked up 96 electoral votes 4 years ago from Florida, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

All of these again are listed as doubtful for the Democratic nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

In addition, Dixie governors meeting in this sunbathed mountain resort call the Nixon-Kennedy contest close in North Carolina, South Carolina, and West Virginia. The 3 states have a total of 31 electoral votes.

The governors wound up the 26th annual Southern Governors Conference with the election of Gov. Price Daniel of Texas as their new chairman to succeed Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. of Virginia. They named Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia as vice chairman, a new office. They voted to meet next year in Tennessee, probably at Gatlinburg.

In a flurry over states rights and school integration, the governors adopted a resolution by Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina calling for the teaching of the Constitution and its principles in the schools.

Hollings said school integration is an encroachment on the constitutional rights of the states—a position Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi backed strongly.

Barnett said the only way to curb the Supreme Court from "making irresponsible and revolutionary decisions" was to crystalize public opinion in the nation. Once this is done, he said, Congress can stop the court from "usurping legislative powers."

In an acceptance speech, Daniel said that if the governors stand together they can influence Congress to change the effect of court decisions as they did in insurance regulation, tidelands and other matters.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas told his colleagues that in opposing "forced integration" in his state he had never taken a stand as "a segregationist or an integrationist" but had based his fight on what he called constitutional rights.

The new conference officers, Daniel and Vandiver, are supporting the Democratic ticket of Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, his running mate.

Daniel denied his selection could be interpreted as a conference effort to boost Kennedy's chances in the South.

Daniel declined to make any political prediction as chairman of the conference.

Discovery Of A Human Cancer Virus Revealed By Researcher Team

By Delos Smith
UPI Science Editor

New York (UPI)—The discovery of a human cancer virus was revealed Wednesday. It was the second such discovery announced this year in an onrushing strengthening of the theory that many if not all human cancers could be traced to viruses if only science knew how to do the tracing.

However, there is no proof that the newly discovered virus causes cancer either in human beings or in animals. But there is proof that in hamsters it causes a weird deforming of the skull which resembles the human affliction of Mongolism.

The virus was found in eight cancers of different types which originated in different places in human bodies. But these cancers were not in human bodies when the virus was found. They were then being "carried" by successive transplantations through a series of laboratory animals.

The discovery was made by Drs. Helene W. Toolan, Gilbert Dalladorf, Marion Barclay, Satish Chandra and Alice E. Moore of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research and reported in the proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

The scientists said they are satisfied they are dealing with a virus "associated" with human cancer and not with a random virus of rodents which had been picked up somehow in the repeated transplantations. They are satisfied because—

They had found the viruses in the tissues, (although not in the cancers) of cancer patients but not in people free of cancer. They had found it in the tissues of rats bearing transplanted human cancers but not in normal rats. Nor could they find it in the tissues or cancers of rats carrying spontaneous rat cancers.

Until last March no virus had ever been identified as a cause of human cancer. Dr. Steven O. Schwartz, of the Hektoen Institute for Medical Research, Chicago, revealed then that he had isolated a virus which causes leukemia or "blood cancer" in human beings. So far his work has not been independently confirmed by other scientists.

Pearl Market Tightens

New York (UPI) — A Far Eastern epidemic of tidal waves and typhoons has tightened up the import market for cultured pearls from Japan, and Americans will be paying premium prices for scarce larger sizes for some time, according to market sources here.

Exchange Says It Has Moral Duty To Investors Who Are Swindled

New York (AP) — The New York Stock Exchange, in a revolutionary move for a stock or commodity market, acknowledged it had moral responsibilities to investors who lose money because of fraudulent acts of members.

Keith Funston, president, announced the exchanging attitude in a statement accompanying expulsion of Anton Homsey, a member since 1949, is a partner in DuPont Homsey & Co. of Boston. The exchange alleges he was guilty of various "fraudulent acts." A court appointed receiver is determining the financial position of the firm.

Funston said Homsey's expulsion was the first in 22 years because of "fraudulent acts" which endangered a member firm's financial position." There have been other expulsions for fraud where the firm's financial position was not endangered.

Customers do not lose money, however, unless the firm through which they are dealing has its financial position impaired.

Twenty-two years ago Richard Whitney, head of Richard Whitney & Co., was expelled from the exchange. Whitney had been exchange president and his expulsion, coming in the New Deal era of Franklin Roosevelt, hastened reforms in the securities business.

Whitney's firm failed and Whitney was sent to Sing Sing Prison. But the exchange did not acknowledge it had any responsibility for losses of Whitney's customers totaling $5,662,000.

Homsey was a relatively obscure member compared with Whitney, but if the exchange assumes responsibility the Homsey case could become of much greater historical significance than the Whitney scandal.

Heretofore, member firms of all exchanges have borne the complete responsibility for their obligations to customers.

Funston's statement did not define the area of the exchange's responsibility. He said the expulsion of Homsey did not solve the problem of protecting the interests of investors who dealt in good faith with the firm.

"More than that, the New York Stock Exchange feels that its moral responsibilities to these investors are not ended with the act of expulsion," Funston said.

Lodge Campaign In Nebraska Still Sought By GOP

Nebraska Republicans are still "extremely hopeful" that vice presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge will appear in Lincoln next month, State Chairman Charles Thone said Wednesday.

Nothing has been definitely arranged.

Sen. Roman Hruska is working on the possibility as co-chairman of the party's national speakers bureau.

Presidential nominee Richard Nixon will not return to Nebraska in October, Thone said.

Nixon campaigned in Omaha earlier this month.

FPC Paves Way For Cuts In Natural Gas Prices

Washington (UPI)— The Federal Power Commission (FPC) opened the way for possible consumer price cuts on natural gas by adopting a new geographical yardstick for determining rates charged by independent producers.

Its rejection of the traditional cost-return system of setting utility rates will affect nearly 4,000 independent producers—those who distribute gas in interstate commerce but are not affiliated with pipeline firms.

In a simultaneous action, the commission issued an opinion in the 12-year-old rate case of the Phillips Petroleum Co., of Bartlesville, Okla., the nation's biggest seller of natural gas.

It established rates under which Phillips can take about $51.2 million in revenue annually and granted the firm an 11 per cent rate of return on its investments. Both figures were considerably under what the company requested.

The commission said it expected its new geographical rate-setting system to be contested in the courts. And there is no doubt that Phillips will take its own rate case all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary.

The FPC said its main purpose in adopting the area yardstick was "to set prices adequate to maintain the gas supplies needed by the nation's consumers, but at prices no higher than necessary to accomplish that purpose."

District Court Jury Term Begins Oct. 17

The first Lancaster District Court jury term is expected to start Oct. 17.

Both criminal and civil cases will be tried at the two-week term. It has not yet been determined which criminal cases will be tried at the session, according to Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Paul Douglas.

A panel of 120 prospective jurors is expected to be called for service.

—THE WOMAN BEHIND THE MAN—

Patricia Nixon Experienced In First Lady Role

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 4th in a series of 5 articles on Pat Nixon by Gordon Langley Hall, author of books and articles of international celebrities.)

By Gordon Langley Hall

Patricia Ryan Nixon has already had plenty of experience in what the job of First Lady is like for on many occasions she has substituted for Mrs. Eisenhower. Often with little advance notice she has been called upon to play the exciting role of White House hostess.

During the times that she has accompanied her husband abroad she has played her part with much success. Throughout the unfortunate stone-throwing riots in Caracas she remained calm and unruffled, whereas many women would have been reduced to a state of sheer histeria.

Again in Venezuela, even though she might secretly have felt terror-stricken, she certainly did not show it. At the airport, although the life of her husband as well as her own seemed in imminent danger, she did not panic. While surrounded by an organized spitting and garbage-throwing mob, Pat boldly held out her hand to grasp that of a teenager who had spat on her. The embarrassed youngster started to cry with shame.

In Britain the people loved her as she walked quite at ease beside Prince Philip while her husband accompanied Queen Elizabeth. Although the British often accuse many American women of over-dressing, they found little fault with Pat's well-chosen ensembles. "She dresses with taste and obvious care," wrote one woman columnist. They admired the vice president's choice also, noting that his suits "were not too loose-hanging or too Ivy League but just in-between."

In Russia Pat went all out in her one-woman campaign to make friends with the women she met. They had to admire her great energy. Even a long tour of the Soviet Agricultural and Industrial Exposition pencil-thin high-heeled shoes failed to slow her down.

Her hosts failed to tell her what her schedule would be from day to day but she did not let such omissions of courtesy dampen her enthusiasm.

In Moscow she was allowed to visit the City Hospital for Children, where she spent half-an-hour going from ward to ward chatting to many of the young patients.

Wearing a specially provided white surgical coat, the pockets of which were bulging with American lollipops, she was given a big welcome in the 22 bed surgical ward. Handing out the candy she did not forget to leave some for those unfortunate children who for various reasons were not on hand to receive it.

Told that one hundred and sixty out of the one hundred and seventy-six doctors on the hospital staff were women, the vice-president's wife through interpreters commented: "Congratulations. You are doing such wonderful work." Then she waved at a young baby, who promptly began to cry, much to the amusement of the nursing staff.

Speaking without trace of nervousness to her hosts she said:

"I feel at home because I worked in an X-ray laboratory to earn my way through college. I visit hospitals and orphanages in all the countries I visit. It's the only way to get to know the people and let them know that you are interested in them."

The trip to the Russian food market was one of the high-lights of her tour. She could not resist the urge to buy a squash for about sixty cents. When Larissa Valdoina, the store manageress, heard that her VIP visiter was hunting for radishes she came forward to help. Then 'Mission Radishes' accomplished, the manageress picked out five large sprays of pink and red gladioli and proudly presented them to the special guest.

Woman shopping for vegetables then crowded around Pat, plying her with questions in Russian. Many recognized her from a television news-reel in which she had appeared the night before.

(In the final articles of this series, appearing Friday, Hall describes Pat Nixon's political and social ideas.)

Burney Says He's A Goldwater Admirer

By Rodney Angove
Associated Press

Gov. Dwight W. Burney said Wednesday he is a great admirer of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and his conservative policies, but the degree to which they may be applied to Nebraska state government may be limited.

Gov. Burney said that he spoke at a meeting in Kearney recently honoring Sen. Goldwater. Before the Senator spoke, Burney told the audience "I will say in advance that I second everything he says."

The Goldwater philosophy is generally to keep the federal government out of private business and other affairs which people are capable of handling for themselves.

If applied to Nebraska, there seem to be fewer areas of activity into which the state government has entered, however, compared to the federal government.

One parallel may be drawn in the case of state or federal aid to education. Nebraska is the only state which offers no general aid to schools.

Gov. Burney said he would prefer state aid over federal aid, as the former would keep the control of schools "that much closer to home."

He added that under his proposed 2% sales tax, there would be a surplus of $8 to $10 million a year which could be devoted to schools after the state's expenses are paid.

The sales tax, which would reduce property taxes by 8.43 mills all over the state, would also have the effect of keeping the local school district taxes from looking so bad, he said.

Other issues, such as highways, seem to fall outside the Goldwater theory. Gov. Burney favors an aggressive highway program as long as the sales tax on motor fuels and license fees continue to pay for it.

On the attracting of industry to Nebraska, Gov. Burney returned to the sales tax: "It would make the state look a lot better to investors."

On outdoor recreation development, Gov. Burney believes Nebraska has a tremendous potential and it should be developed by the state, but the speed at which this is to be done depends on how fast the people want it.

Eventually, outdoor recreation development will bring in good returns, Gov. Burney said, but presently it will cost more money—"It's up to the people."

Champ Siphon Tube Setter Is Axtell Resident

Cozad — Richard Malcom of Axtell in Kearney County was named state champion siphon tube setter in the state contest held during Jaycee Hay Days in Cozad. Malcom won with a time of 48.3 seconds.

Gilbert Devine of Cozad, the 1959 champ, was second with 51.1 seconds.

Several county champions where irrigation is used extensively, competed in the contest which was completed in a light drizzling rain.

The top 5 winners in the state contest and their times were as follows:

First — Richard Malcom, Axtell, 48.3 seconds; second —Gilbert Devine, Cozad, 51.1 seconds; 3rd — Don Neilson, Eustis, 52.2 seconds; 4th — Don Kinnan, Cozad, 57.2 seconds; and 5th — Arthur Soderholm, Funk, 6.9 seconds.

Twenty boys entered the junior division with Jerry Soderholm of Funk placing first; Arthur Soderholm, Jerry's brother, second; and Greg Nielsen of Cozad, 3rd.

In the girls junior division, Kala Sue Phillips of Elwood won first; Cindy Frew of Cozad, second; and Mary Grace Bean of Lexington, 3rd.

CHICAGO

Chicago (AP)—The steepest decline of the month hit the butcher hog market Wednesday and prices were weak to 50 cents a hundredweight lower.

Trade was slow for the 7,000 head on sale and buyers paid the $17.75 top for about 200 head of 200-240 lb mixed No. 1-2 and 1-3 grades.

Other similar weights and grades were $17.50 and up. The mixed 2-3 grades and some strictly No. 3s scaling 200-280 lbs cleared at $17-17.50.

Sows topped at $16.25 with that class steady to 25 cents lower.

Offerings for the first 3 days of the week totaled 21,000 head, down 2,000 from last week.

The setback on slaughter steers also was broad with prime grade and choice kinds over 1,150 lbs off as much as $1 at the extreme. Other weights and grades eased only 25 cents at the most.

Some strictly prime offerings in the 1,100-1,175 lb range sold at $26.25-26.50 and a load of 1,450 pounders at $25. The choice and mixed choice and prime cleared at $23.50-26 and the good grade at $22-23.50.

Heifers were steady to 50 cents lower, vealers steady and bulls 50 lower. High choice and prime heifers went at $23.75-24.50, most choice $22.75 and up and good to low choice $21-22.50. Vealers were $22-25, bulls $16.50-19.50.

Mixed good and choice to mixed choice and prime spring slaughter lambs brought $17.50-21 with demand good and the market 50 cents to $1 higher. Ewes were $4-5 and unchanged.

LAFB Flight Takes Vaccine To Spain

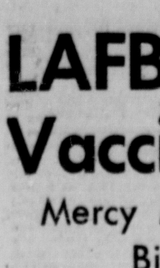
Mercy Mission Aids Americans Bitten By Rabid Cat

A Lincoln Air Force Base crew made a 4,370-mile mercy flight to Spain to deliver urgently needed rabies vaccine to Air Force families within hours after the appeal went out.

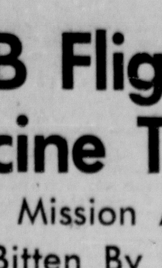
The LAFB B-47 crew, headed by Capt. John R. Parks, made a 10-hour non-stop transcontinental trip to deliver the vaccine for 3 adults and 4 children at San Pablo, Spain, who had been bitten and scratched by a cat found to be rabid.

The successful mission was carried out swiftly through the Strategic Air Command's world-wide communications network.

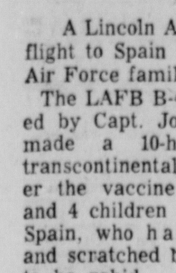
At 4 a.m. Tuesday, the 307th Bomb Wing command post at the Lincoln base received the urgent message from the SAC base at Moron,



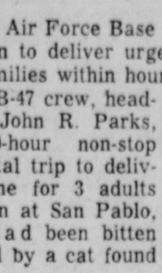
Capt. Parks



Col. Simpkins



Lt. Clemens



Kohlscheen Maj.

Spain where Air Force doctors were in desperate need of a special rabies vaccine known as Duck Series.

The vaccine was needed to treat the Air Force families bittten last Saturday by a cat which was discovered to be rabid, and Spanish medical facilities had none of the proper vaccine.

Flight Scheduled

The plea was flashed to the Lincoln AFB where a routine reflex flight was scheduled to take off Tuesday afternoon for Moron AFB.

Capt. M. Vernon Ordiway and S. Sgt. Dale F. Brown of the base hospital began a search for the Duck Series vaccine and found a sufficient supply at the Donley Medical Supply Co. in Lincoln.

Less than 12 hours after the message from Spain, the vaccine was delivered by Capt. Parks, aircraft commander, and his crew, 1st Lt. Roger O. Clemens, pilot, Lt. Col. Allan P. Simpkins, navigator, and Maj. Leland Kohlscheen, an additional officer on board.

The crew had to maintain a cockpit temperature of from 35 to 50 degrees during the entire non-stop to Spain in order to meet medical requirements for this vaccine.

Crossing the U.S. and Atlantic Ocean with a routine mid-air refueling enroute, the 6-engine SAC B47 medium jet bomber touched down at Moron AFB approximately 10 hours later. The vaccine was then transferred to a waiting Air Force ambulance and rushed 38 miles to the hospital in San Pablo where the Air Force families were hospitalized.

Those bitten and scratched by the rabid cat were M. Sgt. Jesse M. Gray, 38, his wife Yvonne, 36, their sons, Jack, 16, and Charles, 12, and Mrs. Lois A. Onaindia, wife of a staff sergeant, and her two daughters, Roma, 4, and Patricia, 2.

'African People Want Their Own Path To Freedom'

Omaha (AP) —African people are not interested in aligning themselves with East or West, Kwame Adusei-Poku, a diplomatic representative of Ghana, said.

"They just want to follow their own path to freedom and liberation," he said.

"This is also the ideal of Prime Minister Nkrumah," he said, "but many western observers have misunderstood his words."

Adusei-Poku, a member of the Ghana consulate in New York, was here to address the Omaha Committee on Foreign Relations.

"A realistic solution would be found in the Security Council which would give authorization to the African nations," he said. "Their right to run their own affairs should be respected by the United Nations."

Cudahy Dividend

Omaha, (AP)—Directors of the Cudahy Packing Co. declared a quarterly dividend of $1.12½ cents per share on its 4½% cumulative preferred stock Wednesday. The dividend is payable Oct. 15 to stockholders of record Oct. 7, R. A. Norris, secretary, reported.

Notice of Appointment of Election Officials

To all persons in Lancaster County:

Notice is hereby given that the following named persons have by me been appointed as Judges and Clerks of Election in the various Election Districts in Lancaster County, Nebraska, for a term ending thirty days prior to the General State Election to be held in November, 1962; and shall serve as such at all General, City, Special, Municipal and Primary Elections to be held in said county during their term of office.

Further notice is hereby given that the following named persons have by me been appointed as Judges and Clerks of the Counting Boards in the various Election Districts in Lancaster County, Nebraska for a term ending thirty days prior to the General State Election of November, 1962, and shall serve as such at the State Primary and General Elections to be held in said county during their term of office.

By statute it is required that these persons possess the following qualifications in order to serve on the above-mentioned boards; they must be of good repute and character, able to read and write the English language, must be qualified electors in the County and City in which such election is held. No person shall be a Judge or Clerk of election who is a candidate for office at such election or who is in the public employe, with certain exceptions, or who holds a license for the sale of intoxicating liquors or who is engaged in the manufacturing, sale or dispensing of intoxicating liquors.

All persons are requested to inform me as to any want of the above qualifications on the part of any Judge or Clerk below mentioned.

My office at 102 Trust Building will be open during its regular business hours on October 3rd, 1960 for the purpose of hearing objections to the qualifications of any Judge and Clerk listed below, and if all objections are not disposed of on such day, the Commissioner will sit on subsequent days until the same are determined. Any person found disqualified will be removed from the list of appointments.

K. Claims Tito's Backing On Major Soviet Policies

New York (AP) —Nikita S. Khrushchev claimed Wednesday that Yugoslavia's President Tito—a long-standing Communist rival—backed Soviet policies on disarmament, the Congo and the need to abolish colonialism.

The Kremlin leader, continuing his furious round of personal diplomacy talks, reported this after meeting with Tito for one hour and 45 minutes in the closely guarded Soviet delegation headquarters on Park Ave.

But Khrushchev, with Tito standing at his side, acknowledged that the two ideological foes had not settled the quarrel which led Yugoslavia to split from the Soviet-directed Communist camp 12 years ago.

Khrushchev said the bitter dispute over whether Yugoslavia should take orders from Moscow had not even been discussed. Instead, he said they concentrated on the immediate problems disturbing world peace.

With a jolly grin on his face, Khrushchev told newsmen, "we have fully come to terms. Our viewpoints coincide or are very close on all questions discussed."

Tito, dressed in a stylish Western gabardine topcoat, said nothing to contradict Khrushchev's report on their strategy talk. Without a word, he warmly shook Khrushchev's hand, waved goodby and drove off in his police-escorted limousine.

Khrushchev, occasionally offsetting a grumpy mood with gay banter, met with Tito after talking for some 30 minutes with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

Afterward, Khrushchev put in a brief appearance at the morning meeting of the United Nations General Assembly.

Western diplomats were inclined to doubt Khrushchev's version of how much support he got from Tito for Moscow's controversial policies.

Tito has given no sign since arriving of forsaking his independent neutral policy, nor of backing Khrushchev's demand that the U.N. be overhauled and that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold be replaced.

Judge McFarland Released; Must Appear Oct. 10

Bridgeport (AP) — Morrill County Judge Robert C. McFarland appeared Wednesday in Morrill County District Court offering to purge himself of contempt of court.

Earlier this month District Judge R. M. Van Steenberg ordered Judge McFarland jailed for refusing to answer question in the trial of Bridgeport attorney Paul Rhodes in a contempt proceeding.

As a test of good faith, Judge Van Steenberg Wednesday ordered questions from the Rhodes trial transcript read to Judge McFarland. Judge McFarland was then ordered released. He is to appear Oct. 10 for the resumption of the Rhodes hearing.

Wednesday's action was one of a long series of legal actions stemming from a 2nd degree arson charge against Rhodes.

Hastings School Head Objects To Reduction In Tuition Rates

Hastings (AP) — Supt. of Schools Richard F. Short took issue Wednesday with a suggestion that the free high school tuition ratio in Nebraska should be reduced or provided on an actual cost basis.

Supt. Short

The proposal was made by State Education Commissioner Freeman R. Decker. It applies to a situation in which districts which do not operate high schools are taxed by counties to send their students to other high schools.

The 1959 legislature raised the weekly per pupil rate from $12 to $15.

Dr. Decker charged that some schools have collected extra tutition by increasing the number of weeks in their school year and collecting full tuition for some weeks when classes were held only 3 days.

He predicted a bill would be introduced in the 1961 legislature on the matter of free high school tuition.

Supt. Short countered that the total of approximately $71,000 which the Hastings district collected last year in free high school tuition represents only a small fraction of the district's entire budget.

Schools which send students to Hastings High School are charged on the basis of 38 weeks, even though the school year may actually run longer, he added.

Besides, Supt. Short declared, districts not operating high schools pay only a small fraction in support of a high school compared with people who reside in a high school district.

The free high school tuition levy in Adams County this year for districts which send their students to other high schools in 6.48 mills. Hastings residents pay a total school tax levy of 44.49 mills.

"This levy for districts which do not have a high school is very small considering the fact that they have the same type high school program available as do the people of Hastings or other such communities," said Short.

Nebraska Citian Is News-Writing Winner In State

Diane Jessup, 17-year-old Nebraska City high school senior, has been named the state news-writing winner in a contest jointly sponsored by Nebraska Press Assn., Ford Motor Co., and her home town newspaper, The Nebraska City News-Press.

Diane will receive an all expense air trip to Detroit Oct. 12-15 to compete with other state winners in Ford's annual $15,000 college scholarship contests. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jessup of Nebraska City. Her activities in school and out are numerous, and she ranks in the upper 10% of her class.

Judging the entries were NPA Manager Vern Scofield, University of Nebraska J-School director Dr. Wm. Hall, and Tyler Edgecombe, Geneva publisher and president of NPA. The judges also named these runners-up; Second, Eddie Lee Novak, Rosalie; third, Connie Jane Holmstedt, Sutherland; first honorable mention, Susan Josephine Graves, Beatrice; second honorable mention, William R. Berryman, Cozad.

Excuses, Excuses

Boone, Iowa (UPI) — Another good excuse for forgetting wedding anniversaries has failed to satisfy a wife.

Iowa Attorney General Norman Erbe tried this one:

"But dear, I was out running for governor and it slipped my mind."

Erbe, Republican nominee for governor, had been too busy campaigning last Tuesday to remember to tell Mrs. Erbe "happy anniversary."

He said things were "a little bit cool, but improving" at the Erbe home.

Candidates Know NY May Hold Key To White House

Albany, N.Y. (UPI) — New York's 45 electoral votes, the biggest prize in the presidential election, is within reach of both Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

It may hold the key to the White House, and both state party chairmen claim those votes as their own.

Many factors, however, come into play in a state that provides a near-perfect cross section of minorities and numbers virtually all races, religions, nationalities and occupations among its 7 million voters.

The "religious issue" is a double-edged sword that could prove the difference between victory and defeat. But what effect it will have and whether it will follow or reverse the overall trend can not be determined until the votes are counted.

About one-third of the state's 16.5 million residents are Roman Catholics. If the religion of a candidate is considered the dominant question in the campaign, its influence on these voters may be telling. But in addition, two other huge voter blocs will play a vital role. These are the Jews and the Negroes

The Jewish vote has provided the margin of victory in the ast several state-wide campaigns, while Negroes who follow the political leadership of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell defected from Democratic ranks in 1956 to push President Eisenhower's plurality over the million mark.

Generally GOP

New York is generally Republican. Its electoral votes have been in the GOP column since 1948.

The governor, both senators, a 24 to 19 majority of its representatives in Congress and both houses of the Legisiature are Republican. The state is divided along traditional lines, with the urban centers holding the most Democratic strength while the farm communities of upstate are GOP strongholds.

The major split is between New York City, with its 7.5 million residents and upstate, with a similar total. The balance reside increasingly in the suburbs.

But Democrats say they have victory within their range for several reasons:

They believe Kennedy, a Catholic, has the pulling power to recapture Democratic votes that strayed into the Republican column in support of Eisenhower. In this group are the vast number of Irish Catholics who backed the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and believed his charges that Democrats were "soft" on communism.

The Jews, Democratic leaders say, do not like Nixon. They recall his early campaigns, patricularly the one in which he opposed Mary Gahagen Douglas for a seat in the U.S. Senate which they say showed traces of anti-Semitism.

The Negroes who followed Powell in 1956, may continue behind his leadership this year in his endorsement of Kennedy.

Catholics steadfastly insist they will not vote for a candidate because he shares their religious beliefs yet the increasing frequency of attacks on their religion may be driving them closer to the Massachusetts senator.

The way the "religious issue" may work more for than against Kennedy in New York, was summed up recently by State Democatic Chairman Michael H. Prendergast.

Asked how things looked, Prendergast replied:

"We'll be alright if we can keep Peale going."

He referred to a statement by a group of Protestant leaders who questioned the ability of a Roman Catholic to serve as president. The group was said to have been led by the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who has since disassociated himself from the group and its statement.

Until the so-called Peale statement, Prendergast explained, Jews who were ardent admirers of twice-defeated candidate Adlai E. Stevenson had been lake-warm to Kennedy.

The injection of the religious question however, drew a prompt response from a group of rabbis who deplored its presence in the campaign.

Some have accused Sen. Kennedy of playing on religious prejudice just to win sympathy as the underdog. They assert that he is the one that has injected religion into the campaign for the purpose of attracting minorities. If this view became widely accepted, it could backfire on the tousled haired senator from Massachusetts.

Many political observers believe that in New York so many voters are so undecided that the "switch" vote will play an important factor. This is comprised of persons who go to polls intending to vote one way but at the last minute as they reach for the lever on the voting machine on an impulse they cast their ballots for the other candidate.

Auxiliary Unit Gets Awards For Activities

Lincoln Unit 3 of the American Legion Auxiliary has received two awards for its activities.

A citation of merit, superior rating, was presented the Unit for its year's program. For attaining 126% of its quota, the Unit also has won the membership bell, Margaret Amundson trophy, class 4.

Mrs. Ada McVicker gave a sketch of the Nebraska Auxiliary's history and presented 40-year membership pins to Mmes. Harry Ball, R. G. Simmons, Claude Golding and Frank O'Connell.

Last month, Mrs. Fred Waggoner, child welfare chairman, reported, $107.68 was spent to help outfit needy veterans' children for school.

Others not present to receive their 40-year membership pins were Mmes. Genie McGlasson, R. V. Koupal, F. B. Chappell, Fritz Craig, Mabel Van Kirk and P. G. Wiens.

Mrs. A. C. Wehr was unanimously endorsed for 12th District president. The district convention will be Nov. 5 at Elmwood.

Base Says Airmen Given Time To Appear In Court

A clarification of the Lincoln Air Force Base policy on releasing airmen for court appearances was made Wednesday.

Maj. Frank C. Miller, the base staff judge advocate, said it is the policy of the Air Force and the local base to give service personnel ample opportunity and such litigate any matter in any free time as is necessary to civil court.

The question arose when a civil case involving an airman in Municipal Court reportedly was postponed because, according to the airman's attorney, the base would not release the man to attend the scheduled trial.

Detain Hastings Man In Burglary

A 32-year-old Hastings man was still being held Wednesday for investigation in a reported $1,500 burglary of a Lincoln home.

The man is jailed for investigation into the alleged theft of a trunk containing cash and belongings from the Lucius Pearson home at 1648 So. 3rd.

The man, however, denies taking the trunk and also denies stealing the car found in his possession when he was arrested in Omaha. He said he borrowed the car from a friend.
